AN ELEPHANT TOKEN NEVER FORGETS — FORGERY

By

Eric P. Newman, A.N.A. No. 4624

With deadly "impact," forgeries of coins collected primarily by Americans continue to emanate from London sources. The new crop of die struck copies of old coins are of highly deceptive quality. First the fake Oak Tree shilling was reported[1], then the bogus St. Patrick farthing in silver[2], then the 1787 Auctori Plebis counterfeit[3], then the spurious Franklin Press token[4], and now a false London Elephant token. How many more are there? Are they going to be stopped before the deluge? Anyone who knowingly buys such coins for any sum whatsoever only encourages a continuation of forgery and undermines numismatics, as apparently no counterfeiting law seems to have been violated in the case of these particular coins selected for forgery.

Other forgeries undoubtedly would have been on their way but the forger seems to have been diverted to the easier task of producing cut and counterstamped West Indies pieces from genuine Spanish Colonial silver coins.

The ordinary London Elephant halfpenny, once known as the African halfpenny, was readily obtainable at a nominal price until there were more coin collectors than elephants. Then it became sufficiently scarce to merit being forged.

Within the last three years a "new variety" of a London Elephant halfpenny has come to light. Charles Wilson Peck in his authoritative study of the technical varieties of English copper coinage[5] did not know of it. Even though unknown in British or American collections, a new die variety aways can be discovered and therefore the "new variety" should be skeptically treated as genuine until proved false. Both the obverse and the reverse dies of the "new variety" are new, yet both correspond in elements and in placement to the dies of the most common London Elephant token, known as Peck No. 503 and routinely illustrated in catalogs. The obverse has the figure of an elephant standing on ground and has a toothed border but no legend. The reverse contains the arms of the City of London on a shield and the circular legend GOD: PRESERVE::LONDON: with a toothed border. It contains a six pointed star or mullet under the shield.

Related Dies

Before explaining how the "new variety" differs from the known one, an examination of other related dies is necessary.

In addition to the reverse on the Peck No. 503, there is another reverse die with an X joining the inside corners of St. George's cross (No. 501), a third reverse with the dagger in the second quadrant instead of the first, and having no star (No. 502); and a fourth reverse with only the legend LON * DON * (No. 500).

On the obverse of Peck No. 503 the elephant's trunk is close to the toothed border, while in the other obverse die the trunk is more than a trunk's thickness distant from the border (Nos. 500, 501, and 502). These same two obverse dies are used on the New England and Carolina elephant tokens dated 1694. The obverse, with the trunk distant from the border, is found combined with the Carolina reverse having an uncorrected second E in PROPRIETERS (Crosby, plate IX, No. 1). The obverse with the trunk close to the border is combined with both the corrected Carolina (Crosby, plate IX, No. 2) and the New England reverse (Crosby, plate IX, No. 3). Therefore, both known obverse dies are found on pieces with American legends. The "new variety" is not.

Numismatic References

The earliest numismatic reference to Elephant tokens published by Thoresby[6] in 1713 relates the London pieces to the reign of Charles II (1660-65) while the date 1694 on the American pieces falls in the reign of William and Mary. However, the American pieces were not known to Thoresby. Martin-Leake in 1726[7] copied Thoresby's chronology, and although enlarging the text on Elephant tokens in his second edition in 1745, still did not know of the American pieces. However, the Pembroke plates published in London in 1746 but prepared about 1720[8] illustrated the Carolina Elephant token in Part 4, Table 14, for the first time. Snelling[9] in 1769 commented on both the London and Carolina pieces stating that the elephant die "is remaining in the Tower." The die was not there when an inventory of dies was published in 1910[10]. No facts as to the date or reason for the use of the London Elephant tokens have come to light.

Differences in "New Variety"

The "new variety" differs from – but is similar to – the well known London Elephant token (No. 503) in the following major particulars:

Obverse differences: (1) In the "new variety" the inside of the top lobe of the ear comes to a sharp point, whereas in the known type the lobe has an open, sweeping loop. (2) In the "new variety" the forepart of the right hind leg has a straight outline, whereas in the known type there is a knee joint with a 60 degree change of direction in the outline of that forepart. (3) In the "new variety" the inside outline of the skin flap on the base of the elephant's tusk angles 45 degrees down to the right, whereas in the known type it hangs like a catenary curve.

Reverse differences: (1) In the "new variety" a continuation of a line drawn through the dots of the left top colon falls just to the right of the right bottom colon, whereas in the known type it intersects the second R in PRESERVE. (2) In the "new variety" a continuation of a line drawn through the dots of the right top colon falls between the left bottom colon and L, whereas in the known type it intersects the first O in LONDON. (3) In the "new variety" the base of P has an irregular bifurcation sharply cut into the die, whereas in the known type the base of the P is horizontal and bifurcation to various degrees results from the radial expansion of the planchet during striking, leaving a rising slope between the base outline and the bifurcation. (4) In the "new variety" the base of the first R has a sharply cut die bifurcation, whereas in the known type there is a rising slope from the base to the bifurcated elements. (5) In the "new variety" the cross is not lightly striated, as it is in the known type. (6) In the "new variety" many of the teeth on the border are sharply pointed on the inside edge and are distant from the letters, whereas on the known type the teeth are all blunt on the inside and close to the letters. (7) The placement of the teeth relative to the parts of the letters differs.

Obverse similarities: The size and shape of the elephant is virtually identical on both pieces.

Reverse similarities: (1) The legend is in virtually the identical position relative to the shield on both pieces. (2) The letters of the legend are in virtually identical positions relative to one another on both pieces. (3) The size and shape of the London arms is virtually identical on both pieces.

No Safety in Numbers

The writer has seen six examples of the "new variety" which separately have worked their way from London to America in the last three years.

The accompanying table raises a "red" warning flag in several important particulars. How can there be a brilliant red proof made in the 17th century? How can each coin have a different obverse-reverse relationship if the "new variety" is a normal production from dies fixed in position? How can reddish areas be found on coins, purportedly 250 years old, which also have very dark areas, unless artificially colored or tampered with? How can six of a "new variety" simultaneously appear after almost three centuries? Why do worn coins have square edges? Why do five of the coins have almost identical weights when the previously known pieces vary substantially in weight, whether in the thick or thin planchet categories?

Forged token

From the foregoing the reader cannot avoid suspecting the "new variety." The problem is to analyze the evidence and determine what has occurred.

The Bifurcation Impossibility

The "new variety" has the base of certain of its letters (particularly the PR in PRESERVE) deliberately cut as bifurcations. This is positive proof of a forgery when the same letters on the dies of known varieties of the same style of coin have flat bases and such other varieties have natural bifurcation. Only letters near the circumference of a coin are subject to such a conclusion, and all lettering on London Elephant tokens is so located.

It is well known that in striking coins without a collar, in presses of unregulated pressure, the planchet expands radially toward the outside because of the force of the blow on the face. The areas near the circumference move outward more than areas near the center. The movement causes the top or any outwardly restrained portion of a letter to fill in solidly.

The area of metal in a planchet under any letter with a long upright in a radial position starts to rise to fill the die recess but before the complete fill-in has taken place, the metal under the base has moved slightly outward. The top parts of the serifs at the base of letters in the die act to restrain the metal near them, and therefore the metal cannot move outward as easily in those portions. Thus the center of the base of a letter does not fill in to the extent that the sides of the serifs do, because the center of the base of a letter with a radial upright is far away from something to stop the outward movement. This results in the bottom of such letter appearing split into two prongs which join a little higher up on the upright of a letter. The portion between the prongs takes the appearance of a glacier sweeping up to mountains. If the pressure were sufficient this would not occur, but sufficient pressure in 17th century minting techniques might have broken the dies too soon or spread the coin too much.

There is no bifurcation at the base of the letters on the actual reverse die from which genuine Elephant tokens were struck, even though bifurcation customarily resulted on the genuine tokens themselves, as heretofore explained. However, if a false die were made from a genuine token by impact, then the false die would improperly have bifurcation. When an engraver attempts by hand to sharpen the detail of such a false die he cannot readily reproduce the rising sweep of the natural metal flow into the bifurcation. In the "new variety" no attempt was made to create a natural sweep and the two prongs in each of the bifurcated letters PR were cut with sharp sides, proving that the original letter punches were not used to make the die from which the "new variety" was struck.

Letter punches which have forked bases sometimes have been used to avoid natural bifurcation in other coins, but no punches used for the other letters on the die of the "new variety" of Elephant tokens were of that style.

Forged Impact Dies

Originally the fundamental requirement for making impact dies was the destruction of a genuine coin or two. The application of impact die making to counterfeiting apparently started in the forging of English gold sovereigns because the genuine pieces had a premium value far above their intrinsic metal value. It was unimportant how many sovereigns were destroyed in making a die as the gold was salvageable. If a red hot piece of soft steel were struck with a cold coin in a drop forge, or by other means using adequate impact force, the design of one side of the coin would be forced into the steel. The design of the other side could be similarly impressed on hot steel by using a second coin. Fortunately, the impact usually does not leave all portions of the impression in steel clear and strong, but the position and size of all parts of the coin are correct as if done by a hubbing or transfer process from hard metal. Any weakness in the design or lettering in the impact dies needs some touching up by hand engraving before the steel die is hardened, and in doing so, variations and defects occur. The finer the impact, the less engraving is necessary; the finer the engraving, the more difficult the exposure of the fraud.

If a coin is too rare to destroy, impact dies can be made without harming the coin. This could be accomplished by making a separate high quality electrotype of each side of the coin. Each such electrotype is built up on its back by prolonged electrolytic immersion so that it has sufficient body to be used in the impact process. Electrotypes, by reason of their method of production, lose some detail, and therefore produce weaker impressions when subsequently used to make impact dies.

If a coin is inexpensive, there is little loss in destroying it in order to make dies for forgeries in other metals. For example, if a coin were of hard metal such as the 1943 U. S. steel cent, superb impact dies can be and apparently have been made for the purpose of striking false 1943 cents in copper.[11] The St. Patrick farthing in silver[2] is from an impact die made either by destroying a copper farthing of little value or from an electrotype. A gold St. Patrick farthing could be forged as easily. If a particular die combination is rare and the identical dies are common in separate coins, then impact dies can produce a rare coin forgery by destroying two common coins. For example, a U. S. 1909 San Francisco mint VDB cent might be struck from an impact die made from the obverse of a routine 1909 San Francisco mint cent and an impact die made from the reverse of a common 1909 Philadelphia mint VDB cent.

No inference should be drawn from the foregoing that the author has had occasion to test these procedures personally. In addition, the reader is not to conclude that the foregoing should be taken as suggestions worth acting upon, since there are counterfeiting laws which stand in the way of such fraud. The reason these thoughts are expressed is to alert the reader so he can protect himself, realize the seriousness of apathy toward such practices, help crush their sources, and save numismatics from being degraded and discredited with a flood of forgeries.

Quantities of forged sovereigns and other modern gold selling at a premium and made chiefly by the impact process are carefully described by Alfred Dieffenbacher.[12] Other forged American pieces made by the impact die process have been described by John J. Ford Jr. and Don Taxay.[13]

Summary

The reason for every difference between the "new variety" and the known variety of the London Elephant token should now be clear. The ear lobe, the right hind foot, and the skin flap are all hand engraved for the purpose of strengthening the impression made by the impact die. Only one elephant punch was used to make genuine elephant dies in the 17th century, and there would be no need to hand engrave parts of a genuine die in those parts where the elephant punch could be reused for that purpose.

On the reverse, the identical position of all lettering with respect to itself and to the shield cannot possibly occur both on the "new variety" and on the known die, because individual letter punches were used to make the dies in the 17th century and would not and could not be so perfectly duplicated in position on two genuine dies. The P and R in known varieties clearly have a square base from which the bifurcation flows, while the bifurcation in the "new variety" is artificially cut into the impact die. The colons were weak in the impact die, and when strengthened by repunching, they were straightened out somewhat and thrown out of line. The striations in the cross of the known variety were not deep enough in the original coin to show up at all in an impact die. The toothed border did not show up well so the engraver cut a new border with a tool shaped differently from the one with which the originals were made.

The effort to which the forger went in the "new variety" of Elephant token is not justified financially. Perhaps it is practice for "better" things to come. It must be justified to a great extent by the personal satisfaction in seeing others duped. It is a diseased mind at work. The forger or forgers are trained in modern metallurgical, mechanical, and chemical engineering methods, as well as in the engraving art. He or they are wasting those talents. After the forgeries are struck they are artificially worn and gently scarred and nicked. Then they are chemically and thermally colored with the toning "dyes" to make them appear old. One could tell, however, from the "dies" which one has the "Toni." Folly of this type must be eliminated by coöperative effort. All such pieces should be permanently defaced or destroyed. Above all, these pieces should be excluded by numismatists from any commercial traffic whatsoever.

No description or discussion of the 19th century Robinson copy of the New England Elephant token, the 19th century Bolen copy of the Carolina Elephant token, or the recent Capitol Medals copy of the Carolina Elephant token has been included because they are imitations readily distinguishable from the pieces under discussion. The type of the uncirculated Elephant token advertised in the October, 1964, Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine, p. 2730, is not stated and has not been examined.

Book Review

A Catalog of Modern World Coins* by R. S. Yeoman, 6th edition, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., 1964, board covers, 512 pp., illus., $4.00.

The revised "brown book" is out, and the growing group of foreign coin collectors is buying it to the extent that the larger than usual first printing sold out in about two weeks. Quite a few changes have taken place in world coinage during the last two years, and more than a few prices of older coins needed to be brought in line with current demands. Without increasing the size or price of the book, Whitman managed to make considerable rearrangement, add the newest coins and include others recently brought to light. Added illustrations and information expanded the Afghanistan series from 3 to 9 pages, and a dozen coins, with illustrations, were added to the Israel section. A chart was included for reading and translating dates on Ethiopian coins. It was necessary to make space for these and other additions, but few collectors will miss the early issues such as Leopold I of Belgium and German coins prior to 1871. We understand that these German state coins will be added to the new book, covering the period of 1750 to 1850, now in preparation by Whitman.

Prices of many of the minor coins and most gold remain unchanged, but there are exceptions such as the Maundy sets of England, which about tripled from the fifth edition, and all coins of Lithuania. The 1909 Kiao Chau 10¢ piece advanced from $5 to $12.50. Most of the crown size and commemorative coins and proof sets moved up considerably, as illustrated by the following random examples: Austria, No. 3 commemorative crown, $37.50 to $100; Bermuda 1959 crown, $4 to $12.50; Kweichow, 1928 automobile dollar, $22.50 to $40; Cuba, souvenir peso of 1897, $10 to $30; Queen Victoria gothic crown of 1847, $20 to $100; the British 1953 coronation proof set, $15 to $35; and the New Zealand 1935 Waitangi crown, $125 to $225. A very few price reductions were noted, such as No. 30 of Tibet, $12.50 to $7.50.

With its illustration, convenient arrangement of countries in alphabetical order, index and listing of denominations by countries, and up to date retail prices, the book is a storehouse of information for collectors and students alike. Priced at $4.00, the new "brown book" may be purchased from most coin dealers and in many book stores. — GLENN S.

AUSTRALIAN DECIMAL COINAGE

By

W. H. Bradfield

A LONG awaited new effigy of Queen Elizabeth II, personally approved by the queen, will appear on the obverse of Australia's new series of coins when the commonwealth converts to the decimal system in February, 1966.

The basic unit under the new decimal system will be the dollar. The first coins minted will be the 1 cent, 2 cent, 5 cent, 10 cent, 20 cent, and 50 cent pieces. Designs of Australian wildlife will dominate the reverse of these coins.

On the 1 cent piece will appear Australia's feather tail glider, the smallest of gliding marsupials. It is strictly nocturnal and is quite common in the forests of the eastern area of the island continent. Its most common nickname in the bush is flying mouse, which gives an idea of its size.

The 2 cent piece will carry a likeness of the frilled lizard, found only in the tropical north of Australia. It grows to about 3 feet in length, mostly tail. It is harmless, but when cornered, presents a gaping, hissing mouth in the middle of its brightly colored neck frill.

The 5 cent coin will feature a likeness of the echidna, or spiny ant eater, one of nature's two egg laying mammals (the other being the platypus). Like the hedgehog, it depends on its spines for protection, rolling up into a tight ball when frightened. The adult echidna is about 18 inches long and abounds in every part of Australia. A related specie is found in New Guinea.

The lyrebird reproduced on the 10 cent piece is the male of the species as it appears when dancing and singing, with its magnificent tail expanded and thrown forward over its head. It is a famous mimic, about the size of a pheasant, and inhabits the dense damp forests from southern Queensland to Victoria.

The 20 cent piece shows the platypus, Australia's other egg laying mammal, which suckles its young and is found in the rivers and creeks on the eastern side of the island continent. It is about the size of the echidna, has webbed feet, rich short fur, and swims with the skill and dash of a seal.

The coat-of-arms on the 50 cent piece is supported by a kangaroo and an emu. The kangaroo is Australia's biggest marsupial, and one of the various species is found in every part of the commonwealth. The doe, which develops to 4 or 5 feet in height, gives birth to a joey only an inch or so long. The joey completes its development in its dam's pouch. The emu is the second largest bird in the world, surpassed in size only by the ostrich. The male bird incubates the eggs and cares for the young chickens when hatched. Until pushed back by settlements, the emu ranged over the length and breadth of Australia.

This completely new, integrated series will replace a coinage that has suffered from having been built up piecemeal over the last 54 years.

The sheep motif on the current shilling will be discarded because the animal is not a native of Australia. The wheat motif on the threepence will be missing from the new series because it is not a specimen of wild life. Both will reappear in the designs of one of the new dollar decimal notes.

The diameter of the 50 cent piece will be approximately half way between that of the current Australian penny and the British and New Zealand half crown. It will be significantly thinner than the Australian penny.

Coin	Diameter (inches)	Weight (grains)	Composition
Silver
50 cents (5/-)	1.240	200	80% silver, 20% copper
Cupro-Nickel
20 cents (2/-)	1.122	174.6	75% copper, 25% nickel
10 cents (1/-)	0.929	87.3
5 cents (6d.)	0.764	43.6
Bronze
2 cents (2.4d)	0.850	80	97% copper, 2½% zinc, ½% tin
1 cent (1.2d)	0.690	40

The 20 cent, 10 cent, and 5 cent coins will have the same weight as the existing Australian silver florin, shilling, and sixpence, respectively but will vary one or two thousandths of an inch in their diameters to bring them into line with comparable British cupro-nickel coins. The change in the alloy will necessitate a slight increase in their thickness, depending upon the height of the relief finally approved.

The diameter of the 2 cent coin has been fixed as far as possible from the new 10 cent coin, to alleviate the problem of coin rejection in coin operated machines. The thickness of the 2 cent coin is not likely to be significantly different from that of the 10 cent coin, nor is that of the 1 cent likely to differ greatly from that of the 5 cent coin.

The bird and animal designs on the reverses as well as the lettering on the obverse are the work of Melbourne artist Stuart Devlin. The queen's effigy was done by a British artist, Arnold Machin, and was personally approved by Her Majesty for use on the coins of commonwealth countries.

The Melbourne mint has already begun production of the 1 cent piece. The other coins are expected to be made by the end of 1965.

Inscriptions on the new coins will combine dignity with simplicity. On the left of the queen's portrait will appear ELIZABETH II, and on the right, AUSTRALIA 1966. Many numismatists may have nostalgic memories of the days when Australian coins bore Latin inscriptions of some complexity. The first Australian coins carried the legend EDWARDUS VII D. G. BRITT. OMN. REX. F. D. IND. IMP. Even in later simplified versions such as ELIZABETH II DEI GRATIA REGINA F. D., these inscriptions have only limited meaning and significance for the average Australian. The new inscriptions will positively identify the queen's effigy, will identify each coin as Australian, and will bear a date.

Priority in production will be given the two bronze coins, the 1 cent and 2 cent pieces – the only two which do not have an exact equivalent in existing coinage. There will be no exact replacement for the threepence.

Initially there will be no $5 bill, as there is no exact equivalent in the pound, shilling, pence system. The new Australian dollar will equal and replace the 10 shilling note. A $2 bill will replace the 1 pound note, a $10 bill will replace the 5 pound note, and a $20 bill will replace the 10 pound note.

It is proposed that the various notes be issued in basic colors – $1 in brown, representing the new value for the brown 10 shilling note; $2 in green, replacing the green 1 pound note; $10 in blue, replacing the blue

5 pound note, and $20 in red, replacing the red 10 pound Australian note.

At the time of the changeover, all Australian banks are expected to close for three or four days, while adjusting their machines and procedures to the new coinage system. Dealing only in money, banks are expected to be the only institutions which convert completely at one stroke. All other businesses will operate on both systems for a period envisioned at 18 months to 2 years, and will convert completely at their convenience. Most transactions can be handled on either system, simultaneously, as most new coins have an exact equivalent.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

In the last five months, since our fiscal year began, we have loaned library books to 14 foreign countries and to 48 states. We are glad so many members are making use of the library. A new Canadian member wrote: "One of the best reasons for joining the A.N.A. is to have the use of one of the most extensive libraries." Another wrote: "Your kind attention to our request for lists and library books has been a great help to our club officers in setting up programs for future club meetings."

We still need issues of The Numismatist from 1922 through 1932 to complete the set for the executive secretary. Any numismatic material is welcome. Mark the package "library rate," the postage being 4¢ for the first pound, 1¢ for each additional pound. No limit on the weight of a package.

SILVER DOLLARS IN THE TREASURY

In May, 1963, the Treasury asked General Accounting Office auditors to join with Treasury auditors in inspecting all future removals of silver dollars from the Treasury. This step, which was put into effect immediately, was taken because it was believed that some of the vaults, which had been under joint seal of Treasury auditors for many years, contained some dollars having high numismatic values.

On April 15, 1964, several weeks after the Secretary of the Treasury had suspended the exchange of silver dollars for silver certificates, the internal audit staff of the Office of the Treasurer of the United States, together with representatives of the cash division of that office, began an examination of the silver dollars in the Treasury under the observation of auditors of the General Accounting Office.

The lot selected for first examination contained 186 bags tagged as uncirculated Carson City dollars. This lot had been placed under joint seal of the cash division and internal audit staff in 1958. The results of the examination of this lot are as follows:

Since the results of this examination of over 10 percent of this lot indicated that the contents of the bags were virtually as tagged, the very slow and costly examination of each individual coin was discontinued. The contents of the remaining 2,163 bags in this lot are tagged to indicate the following uncirculated Carson City dollars:

As of September 21, 1964, there were also in the Treasury 78,899 mixed circulated silver dollars, which made a total of 2,947,899 on that date. Broken down among Carson City and other dollars circulated and uncirculated, the foregoing may be recapitulated as follows:

If any irregularities are discovered, such action as may be appropriate to the findings will be taken.

NOTES & QUERIES

Masada State Medal

A medal has been struck to mark the excavations at Masada and its restoration under the direction of archeologists of Israel. The obverse design recalls an ancient shield with a center composition in relief of Hebrew characters which spell out MASADA SHALL NOT FALL AGAIN. The characters in a continuous circular design around the lettering represent builders, diggers and warriors.

The reverse depicts the rock of Masada in relief with Hebrew characters above spelling out WE SHALL REMAIN FREE MEN. The same phrase appears in English in a half circle on the lower rim. This design is by Shamir Brothers, Tel Aviv, while the obverse was designed by Nathan Karp of Jerusalem.

The piece has been made in three metals: 3,000 gold, 27 mm.; 5,000 silver, 35 mm.; 15,000 bronze, 59 mm. Further information may be obtained from Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp., 850 Third Ave., New York, N. Y. 10022.

NCW in Canada

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I am happy to announce that the Canadian Numismatic Association will sponsor Canadian Coin Week in 1965. Our dates will coincide with yours (April 24-May 1) but our theme will be different. It will be a pleasure to work with so fine a general chairman as Mrs. Otis. We look forward to working with the A.N.A. in bringing about a better understanding of numismatics to the public. – ROBERT MONTPETIT, Gen. Chm., Box 182, Cochrane, Ontario, Canada

Burglary and Theft

The home of Richard S. Yeoman, probably the best known numismatist in America, was burglarized while the Yeomans were away from home a few hours on Christmas Eve. The house was ransacked in an apparent effort to find coins. Two small collections valued at about $3,000, a fur coat and jewelry were taken. It appeared that the thieves were surprised by the early return of the Yeomans and escaped hastily. Yeoman reported the loss of coins involved a few modern U. S. issues, since his more valuable and rare pieces are kept in a bank vault.

Ralph Pfau, P. O. Box 65, Brooklyn, N. Y. reports that three rare half cents were stolen from his case during a New York City show November 27-29. An 1804 is described as G-7 spiked chin, red-brown unc. with a die break from the R in AMERICA to the rim. An 1810 is dark brown chocolate unc. The greatest rarity is an original proof 1831 which is impaired by many pinhole marks on both sides.

Report from GENA

Samuel Burgdorf, general secretary and a guiding spirit of the Great Eastern Numismatic Association, was unanimously elected president during the second annual convention held December 4-6 in the Hotel New Yorker. Mrs. Joan Brand, who was Burgdorf's secretary was elected general secretary along with the following officers and governors: Joseph Weintraub, first vice president; Merrill Kaplan, second vice president; Robert E. Heller, third vice president; Seamon Schlesinger, treasurer; Frank Lacheen, corresponding secretary; and governors Marie Burgdorf, Bernard Gimelson, Sol Kaplan, Maxwell Lieberman, Boris Wishy and Jackson Storm.

There were 2,100 paid admissions, including all chapter club members of GENA as well as its own members who were admitted free upon presentation of a paid-up membership card in their organization. Once registered, guests could come and go as often as they liked. Between 4,000 and 4,500 people visited the show. There were 88 of the leading dealers of the United States and Canada in the bourse room where business was brisk. The platinum medal which was donated to the A.N.A. building fund by Joseph Segel of the National Commemorative Society was sold at auction by Charles Slade for $2,125 to Lou Werner for one of his accounts.

The exhibit winners in the various categories were as follows: best in show – William J. Wild; U. S. coins – Irving Vengrove, Roger Storm, Herbert Storm; foreign coins – George Topping, Fred Baricevac, Walter Wierzbicki; paper money – Jackson Storm, Rev. Frank Hutchins, and William G. Moose; miscellaneous – E. J. Black, Frank E. Janczuk, Robert Heller.

The recently organized Old Timers Assay Commission held a meeting with Vernon L. Brown as chairman. A very enjoyable social evening was spent by this enthusiastic group which plans to get together again at the Houston A.N.A. convention in August.

Brazilian Lottery

Dear Mr. Sherer:

I recently received a notice and application postmarked Brazil and advertising a lottery to be held in Peru. I know the name was taken from the A.N.A. membership list because that is the only list which contains my given name, all other mail being addressed to Mrs. Luther Joseph.

This operation may be legal in South America but here it is questionable, to say the least. Some members might think the operation is sanctioned by the A.N.A. which could cause difficulty for the entire membership. We collectors are having enough trouble denying the reputation we have acquired as bag hoarders and BTO's. A word of caution in The Numismatist seems to be in order. – BARBARA JOSEPH, A.N.A. 52868

[Editor's note: The A.N.A. sponsors no lotteries or similar activities.]

Shop Talk

Hans M. F. Schulman reports a successful auction Nov. 20-25, with a number of buyers from abroad in attendance. In selling over $200,000 worth of coins, new records were set for South American and other pieces. Random prices realized were as follows: China, 1916 $50 gold, $860; England, 1826 £5 proof, $1200; Russia, 12 roubles of 1830, $1425; dekadrachm of Carthage, $1300; South Africa proof sets, 1938, $1200, 1939, $1275, 1946, $500; Australia, 1937 proof crown, $340; Mexico, Louis I 8 reales of 1725, $2900; Mexico 1823 8 reales proclamation, gold, $1650; Bolivia, 1851 8 escudos, $800; Peru, 1699 8 escudos, $750; Cuba, proof 1898 peso, $375; Guatemala, 1824 8 reales, $300; Brazil, 1897 2000 reis, $390; Colombia, 1653 1 real, $350; and a 17 piece set of Swiss shooting talers, $875.

Margood, 120-16 234th St., Jamaica, N. Y. 11411, has developed an illustrated holder for types of error coins. It is intended to permit displaying error coins to indicate the part of the minting process in which the error of each piece occurred. The die cut and precision printer holder is 16″ by 14″ and retails at about $3.00.

Paramount Int'l. Coin Corp. has announced acquisition of an outstanding collection of U. S. coins to be auctioned as "The Century Sale." The collection is practically complete in copper, bronze, nickel and silver coins from 1792 to the present, most pieces being in exceptionally fine condition. Among the many rarities are a proof

1894-S Dime

1894-S dime, unc. 1793 chain AMERI. cent, original 1827 quarter, 1817 over 14 half dollar and 1858 silver dollar. Catalogs of the sale, expected to be held in April, may be obtained at $2.00 each (including list of prices realized) from Paramount, 1 N. Main St., Englewood, Ohio.

Australian Numismatists

Dear Mr. Smedley:

Thank you for your recent letter and request for more membership application forms. The large increase of interest in coin collecting is continuing here in Australia. The greater percentage would probably be more the hoarder-speculator type of collector, but fortunately we are getting some very good collectors who are more interested in the numismatic point of view.

In general I would say the average person is not very interested in the designs of the new decimal coins: his main concern is that he has plenty to spend, but the one strong point of those who have taken some interest in the matter is that they would prefer the koala bear to the echidna as a design. — MAURICE B. KEAIN, Sec., Numis. Soc. of S. Australia

Home Robbery

Oliver B. Wight, A.N.A. 13673, reports that two men, posing as prospective buyers of a vacant house next door, gained entrance to his Baltimore home by the ruse of making a phone call. Threatened with a gun, Wight was bound and gagged, after which the men took his coin collection valued at about $100,000.

While the detailed list of missing items includes a variety of tokens and foreign coins, most of the value was in U. S. and Canadian coins, the majority being in choice condition. The four flying eagle cents, including 1856, were in br. proof or unc. condition. Other outstanding items included a br. unc. set of Indian head cents, 1859 to 1909-S; 81 large cents from 1797 to 1857 in varied condition; sets of other minor coins, some complete, in far better than usual conditions; silver dollars from 1795 to 1935, including a proof 1836 with Gobrecht on base, and Peace type complete br. unc.; a 1904 proof set and others from 1936 to 1964; and a complete set of commem. half dollars. Anyone having information should contact the Baltimore police or the nearest F.B.I. office.

Mint Medal Marks Tour

The Monnaie de Paris, official mint for the French government, struck a special medal to commemorate the visit of the Numismatic News European tour group in September, 1964. Twenty specimens were issued and presented to the tour members during their visit to the mint in Paris.

The obverse of the medal was engraved by Charles-Norbert Roettiers in 1770, and shows the French mint as it appeared at that time. The dies are still extant and are in the mint collection. The reverse of the 63 mm. bronze medal, in plain, neat, sans serif lettering, reads: NUMISMATIC / NEWS TOUR / SEPTEMBER / 1964. The sole extra copy of the medal will be donated to the American Numismatic Association building fund auction.

The Paris mint was one of four in Europe visited by a group of numismatists on a tour sponsored by Numismatic News. The Portuguese, Swiss and British mints were visited also. Another such tour will be sponsored again in 1965, leaving New York on March 29 and returning April 19. This group will visit nine countries in 21 days. Full particulars may be obtained by writing Coin Collector Tour, Numismatic News, Iola, Wisc. 54945 and requesting a free colorful brochure.

TNA March Convention

The United States and Mexico will be united, numismatically, when representatives from the two nations appear as speakers at the seventh convention of the Texas Numismatic Association scheduled for March 26-28 at Corpus Christi in the Robert Driscoll Hotel. Traveling to Texas for the annual event and to participate in the educational program will be Mrs. Margo Russell of Sidney, Ohio, and Clyde Hubbard of Mexico City, internationally known specialist in Mexican and Spanish colonial coins. President E. H. Brooks of TNA will be the moderator for the forum and also will review the five-year history of the organization.

STONE MONEY "TYPE SET"

The stone money of Yap Island, used by the natives for three centuries, was hand-cut in a variety of sizes up to 13½ feet in diameter. Charles Hoskins, assistant to the director of the Money Museum of National Bank of Detroit, explains to tour guide Marjorie O'Grady how the stones are used in island trade.

Texas-style entertainment for convention guests will be on tap, according to General Chairman Joe B. Davis.

Outstanding tours are being included in the planning, such as a visit to the King Ranch, an inspection of the U. S. Naval air station, and a day long outing to the 125 mile long Padre Island where collectors may join in a beachcomber hunt in the shifting sands. A three day preconvention tour of Mexico City is being offered to visitors who wish to combine it with the convention. A chartered plane will leave Brownsville on March 22 and return the day before the convention starts, with a total cost of about $100, including meals and lodging. Sites and sights planned for the trip include the Mexico City mint, Banco de Mexico, the colorful floating gardens, famous pyramids and others. Members of the Sociedad de Numismatica Mexicano of Mexico City will assist in the tour. Contact Joe B. Davis immediately at 638 DeForrest St., Corpus Christi, Texas for complete details and reservations. Convention hosts are the Corpus Christi and Liberty Coin Clubs, assisted by all clubs in district eight of TNA.

PNG Invites Collectors

Members of the Professional Numismatists Guild are having their first public show March 5-7 in Chicago at the Palmer House Hotel. Plans have been made for what should be one of the outstanding coin events of the year 1965. There will be 50 of the most prominent dealers of the United States, members of the PNG and a select group of others who have been invited to attend. This event will be open to the public and should be a wonderful chance for collectors and dealers to contact some of the best numismatic stocks in the country; the collector should be able to find coins needed for his collection; dealers to find items needed for their stocks. Anyone wishing to sell coins or collections will find top dealers of the country interested in them.

The PNG plans to hold two meetings a year, one in the eastern part of the country and one in the western section. S. man-in-space program, this medal was unveiled Nov. 10 at Cape Kennedy, Fla., during ceremonies dedicating a historical monument to Project Mercury. Struck in limited quantity in gold, silver and bronze, the medal is a dollar-sized copy of the original, 2½ feet in diameter, which is part of the monument itself. The medal, featuring the faces of the nation's seven original astronauts, and the monument were produced by the General Dynamics Corp. in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space administration and the United States air force. Medalist is Ralph J. Menconi. Medallic Art Co., New York City, struck the medal, which is not available to the public.

How to Win in NCW

Are you an A.N.A. club or individual member? Do you take advantage of your membership by learning from other clubs and members, or are you just a magazine subscriber? Do you read The Numismatist, or is it just put away and forgotten? Why not donate some good numismatic books or the magazine to your library for National Library Week in April? Many local libraries will keep the books and make them available to your members and others in the community. Show some numismatic books with your exhibits, and suggest "Before you start buying coins, buy a good coin book."

With National Coin Week, April 24-May 1, less than three months away, you can start working for points right now. Publicity after February 1 can be used in your scrapbook. This can include publicity about NCW; articles about numismatics written by members; and publicity about club activities which promote numismatics, the A.N.A., and NCW. Have you any special project for Good Will Through Numismatics? Start accumulating publicity items for your scrapbook. If the governor of your state will sign a proclamation for you, even the big newspapers will consider this news and might be lured into sending a photographer for the signing, if you tell them about it. These people will not come looking for you; you must sell them on these things. The world population and increasing competition have changed the day when the world would beat a path to your door if you built a better mousetrap.

Mrs. Lois Otis

Have you or your club members arranged for numismatic talks before nonnumismatic groups? Even a beginner can look up information and history about coins of our country and tell the story of the motto "In God We Trust." The more advanced collector knows many interesting things that could show people the educational value of our hobby. Write news items about the A.N.A. and NCW in your club bulletin. I have received requests from people for A.N.A. applications, who say they belong to coin clubs. I may be signing up your members. Why not start each meeting by saying your club belongs to A.N.A. and that your secretary has applications.

You should have received the sample display cards, official entry report and letter containing an order blank which was sent to each A.N.A. club. Each member should decide how many of these cards he can use, and your order should reach me in time to send the material before March 15 so you will have it for your last meeting before NCW. If you are going to participate as an individual, please write to me for supplies.

Arrange for radio and TV time, since much of this is scheduled in advance. Start lining up your exhibit locations, as most business men plan their store and window displays several weeks in advance. We have Pan American Week in April also. You may be able to arrange for your exhibit to cover National Library Week, Pan American Week, and National Coin Week, which would give you more time and extra publicity. You can write the Pan American Union, General Secretarial Organization of American States, Washington 6, D. C., for information about Latin American countries.

Not everyone or every club can do all of these things, but you can do something. These are just suggestions to encourage you to participate in National Coin Week, since I cannot come personally to push each of you into taking that first big step of getting started. I think you will find personal satisfaction in working for NCW and submitting a scrapbook entry. Each club that enters will receive a special certificate, plus a certificate for each member who exhibits.

How do you win? You win each time you put up an exhibit and people stop to look at it and read your notes of information. You win with each letter of appreciation, each word of encouragement, each sentence of praise, each question of interest. You win when your name, or your club's name, is published with other participants in NCW. If you are lucky enough to receive one of the top awards, that will be just one more win for you. A business, an organization, a project: each is only as good as the people who work for it. The success of National Coin Week 1965 depends upon you. — Lois Otis, Gen. Chm., 17643 Lincoln Ave., Homewood, Ill. 60430.

VICTORIA REGINA 1837-1901

By

Charles G. Colver, A.N.A. No. 20075

FOLLOWING the death of King William IV of Great Britain in 1837, Victoria became queen at the age of 18. She was to enjoy the longest and most colorful reign in the long line of British monarchs. This 63-year period has become known as the Victorian era and marked the peak of world prestige and leadership for Great Britain. Victoria's birthday anniversary, May 24, is observed as Empire Day, an imperial holiday, and is celebrated throughout the Commonwealth.

To the numismatist it seems the portrait of Victoria can be found on an endless number of coins, medals, and tokens, as well as model, pattern, and trial pieces. One must choose between collecting by type, series, or denomination and still the field is practically limitless. There are 20 different denominations, including 62 major types of coins issued for England alone during Victoria's reign, and very few of them actually are hard to obtain.

It is a fertile field for the crown collector, since a complete set of regular issue Victorian crowns is easily available. Such a set includes the only three colonial crowns of Victoria, all identical in design, which were issued for Hong Kong in 1866-68. The 26 crowns issued for England proper consist of three with the young head, one of the Gothic type, six jubilee types, and 16 of the old head variety. Most of these pieces have the typical St. George-and-dragon reverse design and some have lettered edges. The old head type, 1893-1900, includes two varieties for each year, since the lettered edge indicates the regnal year, and as the anniversary date of the coronation ceremony fell during midyear, it meant the edge year also changed at that time.

A full set of these Victorian crowns can be obtained in choice condition, some in proof if desired. They make a display item second to none in beauty. The 1847 Gothic type is considered by many to be one of the finest examples of medallic art ever reproduced on a coin. Close examination will reveal such outstanding detail that one wonders how this work is possible.

Young head crown; reverse, shield.

A true commemorative set consisting of 17 coins was issued in 1887 to celebrate the 50 year jubilee of the queen. This type continued for several years before it gave way to the more popular old head type. The sixpence with this set had a new reverse design, with no value indicated. When gold plated it was almost identical in appearance to the gold half sovereign. This type was quickly withdrawn and replaced by the conventional wreath reverse design.

Many of the silver coins of the jubilee series were hand enameled outside the mint on the reverse in several beautiful colors. These were made into jewelry and sold in connection with the jubilee celebration. Occasionally these coins turn up in dealers' junk boxes and they always make an attractive and interesting addition to a Victorian collection.

Introduced for the first time with the jubilee set was the double florin, a four shilling piece. This coin was so near crown size that it was unpopular from the start and was discontinued after four years. Many of them appear today in crown collections, although they are slightly smaller and bear an entirely different reverse design.

Britain has shown interest at various times in converting to decimal coinage and many patterns exist in assorted valuations. In 1849 the 1/10 pound piece was introduced and called a florin. Through some oversight the DEI GRATIA Latin inscription was omitted, and it immediately was dubbed the Godless florin. This omission was corrected two years later, along with considerable alteration of design and increase in size. The date appeared in Roman numerals, (MDCCCLXXXVII), and did so until 1887 when the new jubilee issue appeared.

Most coins of Victoria were struck at the London mint and bear no mint mark; however, the Heaton private mint helped produce some of the bronze issues which show a mint mark H on the reverse. Gold sovereigns of the English type were struck in Australia and show mint marks for Melbourne, Perth, or Sidney. The mint mark on the later types is well hidden, just below the right rear hoof of St. George's horse.

Since the British empire during the Victorian era included about a quarter of the world's population, her coinage was widely distributed and accepted. The Indian rupee showing the portrait of Victoria became so universally used throughout the Orient that when Emperor Kuang Hsu of Tibet issued a rupee in 1903, he made his own likeness into almost an exact copy of that of Victoria, even to the European style robes and round pearl beads. Hence we have a British coin and one from remote Tibet which resemble each other to the extent that they were passed as the same. Half and quarter rupee pieces of this style were struck, but they are considerably rarer than the rupee.

Gothic crown; reverse, cruciform crowned shield.

Jubilee crown, veiled bust; reverse, St. George and the dragon.

Late in the Victorian period Britain found it necessary to issue a trade dollar for use in the Orient showing a standing figure of Britannia holding a trident upon the center prong of which appears the mint mark of either Bombay or Calcutta. These coins are quite handsome and have the inscription in both Chinese and Malayan, as well as in English.

Among the more interesting smaller coins of Victoria are the Maundy coins. These are issued in sets of four coins each year on Maundy Thursday as part of a religious ceremony dating back about 300 years, but nevertheless are legal tender. The very small silver coins of one, two, three, and four pence are well made and can be had in exquisite display cases or sometimes in a red or white leather presentation bag as bestowed by the sovereign. A full series of these sets would be difficult to acquire, but a type set would consist only of the three basic Victorian portraits.

No account of the numismatic history of Queen Victoria would be complete without mention of Britain's highest and most coveted military decoration, the Victoria cross. Queen Victoria instituted this award in 1856, and since that time this rare decoration has maintained its precedence over all other orders and medals. The actual medal consists of a bronze cross bearing a lion standing upon the royal crown with the inscription FOR VALOR below, while the reverse identifies the recipient and the date of the act for which the decoration was bestowed.

The royal mint long ago established a practice of issuing standard coin weights to merchants and banks. These were used to test balance with various coins, usually gold guineas and sovereigns, to check for full weight. They were made from brass and other metals and stamped with true weight and the equivalent coin. Some of these bear the date and likeness of the current monarch and many very handsome portraits of Queen Victoria can be found. A collection of these coin weights would make an interesting sideline for some ambitious numismatist.

Old head crown; reverse, St. George and the dragon.

There are numerous large medals to be sought, some with extremely high relief portraits of great detail and beauty. At the other extreme, one of the smallest examples of world coinage is the wee bronze 1/16 pattern farthing. This piece is only about a quarter of an inch in diameter but still shows a very detailed young head likeness of Queen Victoria along with the simple inscription VR, meaning Victoria Regina.

Few rulers ever fulfilled the phrase, "Long Live the Queen," better than Victoria, but her long reign came to a close in January, 1901. She was succeeded by her son, the Prince of Wales, called King Edward VII.

It is doubtful if any personage in history is represented on more pieces of coinage than Queen Victoria. Proud numismatists in distant centuries will continue to display beautiful specimens of Victorian issues.

Long Live the Queen!

The first nickel alloy coin issued by the United States was a one cent piece minted in 1857 from an alloy of 12 per cent nickel and 88 per cent copper. The small amount of nickel in the alloy was responsible for the lighter color of the coins, which are still known as white cents.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Guide Book of Philippine Paper Money by Neil Shafer, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., 1964, board covers, 128 pp., illus., $2.00.

Whitman has released its first book devoted entirely and giving complete coverage to a paper money series. Neil Shafer, author of Whitman's booklet on United States coinage for the Philippines, fittingly turned his knowledge of the latter's monetary history to its issues of paper money. Perhaps the ever increasing interest in collecting numismatic items of foreign countries, and the lack of literature on paper money of other countries, influenced Whitman to enter this field. Then, too, the money of the Philippines is closely related to that of the United States, so its collection is sort of a stepping stone from our own to that of completely alien countries.

After an introduction and historical sketch of Spanish-Philippine and first republic currency, the catalog listing begins with the silver certificates of 1903-18. There follows the treasury certificates, Philippine National Bank notes, and the El Banco Español Filipino and Bank of the Philippine Islands notes. Excellent illustrations of all types are included in addition to descriptions and factual information. Each issue is given an identifying number, the beginning and ending serial numbers, dates of shipment from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing and a valuation where practical. A rarity scale is used for notes which are so seldom found that there is no basis for estimating values. This is a colorful series and many of the notes are valued within the reach of the average collector.

The publication of this book in the popular price range will, most likely, stimulate interest and take many of the notes off the market. As in the case of other Whitman books, this one is available at most coin shops and in many book stores for $2.00. — GLENN S.

Paper Money of the United States by the late Robert Friedberg with revisions by Jack Friedberg, 5th edition, The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc., New York City, board covers, 305 pp., illus., $12.50.

Collectors of U. S. paper money in growing numbers have awaited this revision of the standard reference work for some time. Aside from the fact that a general up-dating of prices was needed, the most important value of the new edition probably is in the pricing of gold certificates. This series having been outside legal limits to collectors prior to last spring, no attempt had been made to price it previously.

Another improvement from the earlier editions is the rearrangement and renumbering of the section on small size notes. Collectors should find this section much easier to use with prices shown along with the illustrations and descriptions. A spot comparison of the valuations in this section with those in another recent publication indicates rather close agreement except that Friedberg's prices are higher for some of the quite scarce notes. Also desirable from the standpoint of collectors of this series is the provision for adding in proper sequence future issues as they appear.

A check of the various large size note series shows that the majority of prices have been advanced in the range of 10 to 25 per cent. There are exceptions, of course, such as the 1899 $1 silver certificate No. 231 up 150 per cent; the 1880 $50 silver certificates Nos. 326, 327, 328 and 329 being up from $1,500 in new condition to $2,750, and from $675 to $1,000 in very fine; and the doubling of No. 444a, an 1875 $50 national bank note. Changes in prices of fractional currency seemed to be more erratic, although only a few were spectacular.

All in all, the new edition should be acquired by those interested in U. S. paper money. No change has been made from the last two editions in the 8½"x11" size or the price of $12.50. The new edition is available at most coin shops and many book stores. — GLENN S.

Obituaries

DWIGHT O. BARRETT

Dwight O Barrett, formerly A.N.A. member 19708, died December 10 in an Omaha hospital at the age of 80. He had been inactive for several years and was confined to a nursing home for nearly a year.

Mr. Barrett was a mechanical engineer by profession, having retired from the Gulf Oil Company, Tulsa, Okla., as chief mechanical engineer in 1949. Born in northwest Illinois, he received his B.S. in mechanical engineering from Armour Institute of Technology in Chicago in 1912 and was connected with several midwestern engineering firms from 1908 to 1929. He was an authority on semidiesel engines and was granted several patents in that field. The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of which he was a fellow, presented a 50-year membership pin to him in a special ceremony in Omaha in January, 1963.

He started collecting stamps in 1936 and soon became interested in related material which led to paper money. Having acquired a notable collection of philatelic Americana and bank notes, he donated the entire collection to Boys Town near Omaha in 1947 and supervised the construction of the PhilaMatic Center to house and exhibit it. From 1949 until a couple of years ago he was full time curator of the center on a "no pay" basis.

Among the many fine qualities and abilities which "D. O." possessed, probably none exceeded his understanding and interest in his fellow men. Many an engineer, philatelist and numismatist owes a debt of gratitude to Barrett for his teachings and helpfulness, even though he often feigned gruffness. He sought no glory and wanted no monument erected to his memory, but the PhilaMatic Center stands as a memorial to his ability, foresight and desire to help others.

Survivors include his wife, Doris; a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Schopf; two grandchildren; and a nephew. – GBS

S. L. MOORE, A.N.A. NO. 2221

S. L. Moore, Commerce, Texas, died on September 16, 1964, just four days before his 76th birthday. A resident of Commerce since 1902, Mr. Moore had been a collector most of his adult life and was a past president of the Dallas Coin Club. He was a man with many interests but the most avid was numismatics, through which he made scores of friends throughout the country. His surviving son, S. Louis Moore, Jr., is a collector also.

GEORGE D. BEARD, A.N.A. NO. 9009

G. D. Beard, Houston, Texas, died on December 8, 1964. Although he learned in October that he had cancer, he was taking treatments and news of his death was a shock to his many friends.

Mr. Beard was an advisor in the pipeline department of Texaco Inc. He was actively interested in numismatics and was a charter member of the Greater Houston Coin Club and the Texas Numismatic Association. He was currently serving as treasurer on the committee in charge of the 1965 A.N.A. convention (see p. 1672, Dec. issue The Numismatist). His untimely death has deprived Texas numismatists of a staunch friend and the A.N.A. of an ardent booster.

Survivors include his wife, Martha, a daughter and several brothers and sisters. – AIM

SARAH R. PESKIND, A.N.A. NO. 33437

Miss Sarah R. Peskind of Chicago died suddenly while riding in a car with friends on December 17, 1964.

Miss Peskind, 56, was a psychologist with the Chicago Board of Education in its bureau of child study. She was secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Area Token and Medal Society, and held memberships in Chicago Coin Club, Oak Park Coin Club and the Canadian Numismatic Association. She was a regular attendant of A.N.A. and C.N.A. conventions the last several years. Her special collecting interests were in so-called dollars, Chicago tokens, and the coins and medals of Israel. In her work with problem children she frequently gave coins to those interested and often mentioned that they were most helpful in therapy of such cases.

A quiet and unassuming woman who was a true numismatist, she was highly respected by fellow collectors in her home area. Survivors include two brothers and three sisters in addition to many friends.

Sculptor's Monogram on the Kennedy Half Dollar

On the 24th of March, 1964, in tribute to the memory of our 35th President, the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy, this nation issued a new half dollar design bearing his likeness on the obverse.

You will notice in the sketches that there is a small insignia at the base of the neck. Somehow, a rumor was started that it is a hammer and sickle, and many people have believed this insidious tale. It is not true. No Communist symbol appears on any American coin.

The device is a stylized presentation of the initials GR and indicates that the portrait was executed by Gilroy Roberts. Since ancient times the custom has prevailed for the sculptor to identify his works. Roberts availed himself of this privilege, and chose the stylized rather than the block form of lettering.

Whenever a new design is issued, rumors fly. At such a time more than at any other, the public gives close scrutiny to its money and all unexplained symbols and devices are questioned. As an example, when the dime honoring Franklin Delano Roosevelt was issued in 1946, the mint was deluged with inquiries from those who had heard that the initials JS on the obverse were those of Joseph Stalin and that some subversive force had entered the mint and secretly placed them on the coin. This was, of course, not true. The initials were those of the mint engraver, John Sinnock.

The Kennedy half dollar will remain in circulation for 25 years under the law. No change in any part of the design is contemplated.

CURRENCY IN MALAWI, RHODESIA, AND ZAMBIA

The former members of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland — Malawi, Rhodesia, and Zambia — began to issue new banknotes on November 16. No new federal currency notes will be issued, but existing federal notes will continue to be legal tender in all three countries until June 1, 1965, when the common monetary arrangements will be dissolved. It is estimated that some £R 24 million ($67 million) in federal notes and £R 5 million in coins are in circulation in the three countries. The proportion of the federal currency that is withdrawn from circulation in each country will determine that country's share of the assets of the former Bank of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, which has now been split up into the Reserve Bank of Malawi, the Reserve Bank of Rhodesia, and the Bank of Zambia. The Financial Times, London, England, November 16, 1964.

ORDERS AND MEDALS

By

Jack Sweetman, A.N.A. No. 17042

AMONG the more intriguing aspects of the phenomenal expansion of numismatics in the last decade has been the popular acceptance of many series once held in low regard. In the middle '50s, Confederate currency, mint errors, Canadian coins, commemorative medals, and others began to climb from comparative obscurity to the prominent positions they occupy in the numismatic world today. Curiously, one series possessing all the elements of wide appeal – beauty, interest, scarcity, and moderate cost – has shared but slightly in this escalation. That series is orders and medals: the overlooked adventure.

The fascination offered anyone with a feeling of history is apparent in the badge of one of the 40,000 chevaliers of the Legion of Honor (Fig. 1) created by the first Napoleon, it may – who knows? – have passed through the hands of the emperor himself. An imagination unexcited by the tumultuous glories of the era it conjures must be moribund indeed.

The romance of the Legion is not restricted to the epoch in which it was founded. Having, in its long life, seen the passing of two empires, two kingdoms, and four republics, it remains the highest honor, in 1964 as in 1804, awarded in the name of France.

Viewed in this perspective it emerges as one of the most interesting orders ever created. Its badge, modified by each of the administrations it has endured, is in effect a tangible record of the changing humors of a strange and gallant land. At first (1804-1815) its medallion bore the image of Napoleon and an imperial eagle, that rapacious bird whose wings spread across Europe from the Tagus to the Vistula, symbol of the power of la Grande Nation; under the Restorations (1814, 1815-1830), the spade-bearded profile of Henri IV, greatest of the Bourbons, whose vigor his descendants could recall but not recover, and their arms, the fleur-de-lys; under the Orléans (1830-1848), the incongruous combination of Henri IV and the tricolors of the republic; under the Second Republic (1848-1852), the bust of Napoleon as consul replacing that of the Bourbon king; under the Second Empire (1852-1870), Napoleon and the eagle from the First Empire badge, a choice as vain as the régime by which it was made; and under the last three republics (1870-), a stalwart personification of the first Republic and, for the third time, two tricolors crossed.

Medals are equally intriguing. It is possible to learn the details of the event for which they were issued, and often to trace the story of their recipients. The discoveries of biographical research are, for many collectors, the most thrilling phase of the hobby. How else can one "get to know," in almost a personal sense, a German rifleman who made his private way through the fury of Waterloo, an English sergeant who saw the Zulu impis close round the doomed camp at Islandwana, or a French captain who clambered up the slopes of the Malakoff redoubt and found Sebastopol spread like a vast canvas at his feet?

The Afghan war medal 1878-1880 (Fig. 2) was the first decoration awarded to Lt. John Gunning Hunter, of the 70th Foot Regiment.

In the 38 years which followed, Hunter rose to the rank of major general in the Indian army and received many other awards: India General Service medal (1854) with two bars for Burma, the 1915 Star, the British war medal (1914-20), the Victory medal (1914-18) with an oak leaf mention, and, finally, the badge of a military companion of the Order of the Bath. An English medal researcher, Capt. W. A. Morgan, has been able to find and forward the full details of Gene Hunter's service. Secondary research on the regiments of which the general was a member, the actions in which he fought in Burma and Afghanistan in the 1870s and '80s, and the operations of the brigade he commanded in France in 1915 is certain to yield material for many vivid pages.

The scarcity of orders and medals, in terms of the quantities to which one becomes accustomed in dealing with coins is almost inconceivable. A rare coin may be one whose mintage did not exceed several hundred thousand; a rare medal is one whose production did not exceed several hundred. Yet, because demand is relatively low, such medals can be acquired at very nominal cost. To cite a personal example, I had the good fortune to obtain two German medals, the Bavarian Military-Max-Josef medal, model 1848 and 1870 (Fig. 3) in silver and the Reich-president's (Gothe) prize medal 1932, of which less than 400 were issued.

The distributors of a few campaign medals of the two World wars and Korea passed the million mark, but such numbers are exceptional. Up to the time of World War I, an issue exceeding 100,000 was uncommon; most occurred in quantities of 25,000 to 50,000, and frequently less. Low issues were characteristic of the German states.

Orders and decorations for merit, awarded with greater selectivity than medals, are proportionately more scarce. The French Croix de Guerre 1914-18, of which 225,000 were bestowed, and the Iron Cross 2d. class, 1914 and 1939, granted on a similarly sweeping scale, are the most common decorations. The British army's Distinguished Conduct medal, with 32,000 awarded for the first World war, is more representative of decorations as a whole. On the other end of the spectrum, of course, are pieces such as the Victoria Cross (1,346 distributions since 1856), the United States marine corps Brevet medal (23 recipients), the Knights Cross of the Iron Cross, 1939, with oak leaves, swords and diamonds (believed to have been bestowed 17 times), and the Military medal of Luxembourg (whose recipients include Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Sir Winston Churchill, Field Marshal Montgomery, and Prince Charles of Belgium).

Orders are even more rare. The memberships of an order usually is limited by statute, sometimes to as few as two dozen. Even when admission to the lower classes is unrestricted, or subject to so many exceptions as to be without effect, it is extraordinary for an order to include more than 25,000 members in any generation. The 100,000 initiations into the Legion of Honor for the 1914-18 war probably is a record in this respect. In reality, order badges are fewer than figures would indicate. Deductions must be made for those destroyed by rough handling, melted for gold content, returned to chanceries, retained by heirs, and donated to museums. In the aggregate, these losses account for a considerable number of badges.

Consider the Grand Cross Star of the Royal and Military Order of St. Louis (Fig. 4). When one reflects that the complement of Knights Grand Cross was set at eight, and that the order was discontinued after 1830, the frequency with which its stars are encountered can be surmised.

Beauty may be too subjective a value to discuss in meaningful terms. Nevertheless, it seems reasonable to assume that anyone who finds coins attractive will consider medals no less so. The only differences are that the noncommercial purpose of medals permits their design to be handled with increased flexibility and struck in bolder relief; and that their manufacture involves an additional step, the introduction of a suspension device to accommodate the ribbon.

Order badges are another story. Their fabrication is the province of the goldsmith and the jeweler; the products of their craftsmanship can be exquisite. The artistry of the Order of the Crown of Württemberg badge is obvious (Fig. 5). The cross itself is gold, with white enameled arms and a translucent red medallion. Most probably it was made sometime during the first two years of World War I by Johann Schwertner or Eduard Foehr, both of Stuttgart.

The question is why, with all these attributes, orders and medals have received so little attention. The answer seems to be the specialized nature of the field itself, aggravated by the scarcity of good references. A thorough knowledge of decorations is a prerequisite to their enjoyment, and at present that knowledge is not easily acquired. There are few books in English on orders and medals, and most of the best works having appeared in German and French. Naturally, these circumstances tend to discourage the potential collector. But perseverance will lead to rich rewards.

Colorado Springs Offers Site

Colorado Springs has joined Kansas City, Oklahoma City and Wichita in offering a free site for the A.N.A. national home and headquarters. Norman A. Coleman, president of the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, wrote the Association as follows:

"May we again join with the Zebulon Pike Coin Club and the Colorado-Wyoming Numismatic Association in extending a special invitation to the American Numismatic Association to establish its permanent headquarters in Colorado Springs. Our Chamber of Commerce is now in a position to offer a site at no acquisition cost to you for this project. It is our understanding that a two acre site would be adequate to meet your initial requirements.

"We are attaching our latest brochure to bring you up to date on the most recent economic developments within the Colorado Springs area. We extend to your organization a most cordial welcome to establish your headquarters here. We believe that your home would be a tremendous addition to our ever-increasing attractions which already bring more than two million persons into the Pikes Peak Region each year."

Charles M. Johnson, chairman of the A.N.A. headquarters committee, expressed pleasure at receiving this fine offer and promised that it would receive careful consideration along with other such offers in determining what location is best suited for our needs.

TRIBUTE TO ASHER H. LEATHERMAN

Asher H. Leatherman, 76, died from a stroke while being robbed of his coin collection in his home at 179 Mechanic St., Doylestown, Pa. on October 23, 1964. He retired 12 years ago as chief clerk to the controller of the Reading Railroad Co., where he had worked 40 years.

Asher was a respected member of his community and a friend of coin collectors and dealers over the entire nation. He was a charter member, with No. 25, of the Philadelphia Coin Club and was elected president of this club in 1939 and again in 1940 and served in this capacity with distinction during the 1941 A.N.A. convention held at Philadelphia. He received the A.N.A. medal of merit in 1958 at the Los Angeles convention in recognition of his outstanding contributions to numismatics.

He was a loyal member of the Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association and attended most of its conventions over the last 12 years and was a member of many local clubs. We are all indebted to this man, Asher Leatherman, for his loyalty and integrity. We in the Philadelphia Coin Club have lost a staunch benefactor. He helped many collectors get their start in numismatics, supplied many items for the Philadelphia Federal Reserve coin exhibit, and always promoted the educational features of our mutual hobby. — ARTHUR SIPE

STATUS OF A.N.A. HEADQUARTERS PROJECT

A.N.A. Benefactor – Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

A.N.A. Patrons – Joseph M. Segel, Whitman Publishing Company, Mr. and Mrs. Matt H. Rothert, J. V. McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bebee, Mr. and Mrs. Al Overton, Albert J. Tanck, Delwyn J. Worthington, Heart of America Numismatic Association.

The month of December was one of great satisfaction to all who are working to make the A.N.A. home and headquarters drive a success. The Phoenix office was deluged with over 500 contributions amounting to more than $16,500 and bringing the grand total of the fund to $107,775.34. Included in this amount are gifts of coins valued at $3,280.50 from Del Worthington of Tucson and a $2,000 check from the Heart of America Numismatic Association, Kansas City. Thus two names are added to the list of honored patrons. It is worthy of note that Worthington's contribution is the largest made to date by an individual, yet he made a substantial addition to it after the December report was closed for publication.

Del Worthington

As the report was being prepared, a gift of over $5,000 in coins was received from Stack's of New York City. This contribution, which will be included in the next report, is to be followed soon by an amount which will make Stack's a benefactor of A.N.A. We note that the National Commemorative Society is approaching its goal of becoming a benefactor also. Many other generous donations were received, as will be noted from the complete report elsewhere in this issue. The Association is especially grateful to a number of individuals and clubs who made contributions of $100 or more. Topping this group was T. Bailey Lee, Jr., A.N.A. 45136, who sent coins valued at $597.85 for the Houston auction.

Gratifying also is the widespread response from the rank and file members of every state, Canada and several other countries. A little computing on the average donation per member by states, excluding gifts by Whitman Publishing Co. and National Commemorative Society, shows that Idaho leads with $16.60. Other states in which the average exceeds $10 per member are Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado and Wisconsin, with Nebraska being close to this group. Next come 16 states with averages of from $1 to $5. We don't want to embarrass others but expect to publish the averages for all states later.

Donor Recognition

In addition to having their names published in The Numismatist, all donors of $10 or more will have their names enrolled in the Book of Honored Donors which will be encased with a commemorative plaque and open to public inspection at all times in the new national home and headquarters. Those whose gifts amount to $2,000 or more are named "Patrons," and those contributing $10,000 or more are "Benefactors." A Certificate of Appreciation is sent to all donating $100 or more. The names of Patrons and Benefactors will be inscribed on a bronze plaque to be displayed prominently in the new home.

Several inquiries have been made about adding to donations already made with a view to raising the donor to a higher classification. To move up it is only necessary to advise Executive Secretary Don Sherer of your previous gift, giving the receipt number, and ask that it be combined with the new one you are sending. Thus a previous gift of less than $100 can be increased to give you a certificate of appreciation, one of less than $2,000 can be increased to make you a patron, etc.

Headquarters Site

Many cities are actively bidding for the new headquarters and numismatic museum, feeling that it will be an asset to their community and attract visitors. As 1964 drew to a close, the following cities had made offers of free and valuable sites, reported Committee Chairman Charles M. Johnson: Colorado Springs, Colo.; Kansas City, Mo.; Linton, Ind.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Prairie du Chien, Wis.; Salina, Kans.; Stafford, Va.; and Wichita, Kans. Several others are known to be preparing to submit offers before February 1 when the site selection committee and Board of Governors tackle the difficult job of deciding upon the most suitable site.

In case you missed them, you are urged to read "Historic Situation Being Rectified" and "He Dwells Nowhere That Dwells Everywhere" in the January issue of The Numismatist. Both are interestingly written and give a good picture of the present A.N.A. situation, without being utopian or lengthy (less than a page each). Even the skeptics and critics of the project must see that the money is going to be raised soon and the national home and headquarters will become a reality shortly. Now is the time to show your faith in the Association and the future of the hobby. "Our grand business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance, but to do what lies clearly at hand." (Carlyle)

CSNS 1965 Convention

The wonderful world of Chicago will be the feature offering on the program for women at the Central States Numismatic Society's Wonderful World of Numismatics convention, according to women's activities Chairman Marjorie Baker. The convention will be held in the Pick-Congress Hotel on Michigan Ave. on April 23-25.

Mrs. Baker, secretary of the Chicago Coin Club, host to the 23rd annual meeting, has planned an all day bus tour of the Chicago area for Saturday, April 24 for both men and women conventioners. The tour will leave the hotel at 10 in the morning and take the visitors up State St. to the Merchandise Mart, world's largest commercial building, and then to Chicago's exclusive Gold Coast. A tour of America's most unusual apartment building, Marina City, will follow. Traveling down Wacker Dr., the next stop will be the Prudential building where the visitors will go through one of the city's tallest buildings. After viewing Chicago from the building's "Top of the Rock," the numismatic tourists will see Chicago's inland port and the beautiful lake front.

Heading north along the lake shore, the group will inspect two of the city's landmarks, the Elks memorial and the Baha'i temple. In suburban Evanston the tour will include the Big Ten's only private university, Northwestern. By one o'clock the group will stop for luncheon at Hotel Moraine in Highland Park. After lunch the tour will head for the Old Orchard shopping center, Lincoln Park conservatory and zoo, and Lake Shore drive. A special treat for the visitors will be an hour visit in the unique shops in Chicago's "Old Town." After dutch treat refreshments at the Bratskellar, the tour will conclude with the trip down Michigan Ave. past the Water Tower, Tribune Tower, and the Wrigley Building, arriving at the hotel about five o'clock in time for the evening banquet.

Mrs. Baker also indicates that a women's hospitality room will be available throughout the convention. In addition to planned activities, the Pick-Congress is near Chicago's legitimate and movie theaters as well as to many of its night spots. For baseball fans, the Chicago Cubs will play afternoon games each day of the convention. Wrigley Field is a short subway or bus ride from the hotel.

Chicago has something for everyone and Mrs. Baker, the officers and members of Chicago Coin Club invite you to the convention. Reservations for the bus tour are necessary. The total cost, including the luncheon but not the Bratskellar stop, is only five dollars. Reservations may be made by writing to Mrs. Marjorie Baker at 158 N. Parkside Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60644. Don't forget to make your room reservations in advance at the Pick-Congress Hotel, 500 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60605.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS to two senior members this February.

To Arthur B. Stewart of Baltimore, who was born on the 27th. While still a schoolboy, his father enrolled him in the A.N.A. as number 183 on January 1, 1894. That was 71 years ago, giving him the distinction of being our present senior member. His membership wasn't continuous, however, and his total years of tenure is exceeded by a few others.

To Arthur W. Kopp of Plattsville, Wisc. whose birthday is February 28. He entered the Association on June 25, 1911, as number 1502. As a Congressman, Mr. Kopp worked diligently with his colleague Congressman Ashbrook to put through the necessary legislation to obtain the original 1912 charter. – JWO

NEW OR RECENT ISSUES

By

ERNST KRAUS, LM 129

Unkept Thoughts on the Houston Convention

It is with saddened hearts that we tell you of the death of your convention treasurer, G. H. Beard. His sudden death leaves a great void in the lives of his many friends. George was most capable and thorough. He kept the fiscal affairs to date and in perfect condition. The numismatic fraternity owes a debt of gratitude to George Beard – a dedicated numismatist and an ardent A.N.A. booster.

An equally capable and dedicated member, William Logan, has willingly agreed to take over the duties of treasurer. Bill is a life member of A.N.A., a charter member of Texas Numismatic Association and is affiliated with your host, the Greater Houston Coin Club. We are fortunate, indeed, to have him serve on our team.

Bill Logan

Turning to another convention area, James Rabia, Don Seibert and Frank Castleberry are enjoying the prospect of serving your needs in the bourse room. Or are they plotting something? Be that as it may, you can rest assured of a carefully arranged room with some extra details for the comfort and convenience of both dealers and visitors. Imagine aisles 14 feet wide! We not only think big in Texas; we spread out that way, too.

Old hands at the job, Jim and Don with their aides will be on hand to direct bourse activities. Take a good look at them. They'll be easy to spot on the floor in their orange colored jackets. You dealers will be sent material in due time as they relay pertinent information. The bourse is located in the hall of exhibits, adjacent to the hotel and connected by an all weather enclosed walkway. Once there, you will find the registration desk, communication center, exhibit rooms and lounge areas. Taken together, this makes for a compact and convenient arrangement.

Frank Castleberry and A.N.A. Sergeant-at-Arms John Gabarron will be in charge of security. This includes round-the-clock security for the bourse and exhibit rooms and a security room which will open at noon Monday, August 23. It will be available also at the close of the convention until 10 a.m. Monday, August 30 for the convenience of those wanting to stay over.

Frank and his aide will man a dealer service desk in the bourse area. Here keys for the exhibit cases will be issued to dealers upon the deposit of $10. These fellows will have extra light bulbs, an adding machine, counter checks, glass cleaner and other conveniences for your use. The entire crew is anxious to make your visit pleasant. We welcome suggestions. Just drop us a line and we'll try our darndest.

Here is a good place to mention that arrangements have been made with a local bank to store numismatic material for those taking the post-convention Mexican tour. This tour is being sponsored by Krause publications who have planned carefully for an exciting visit with our good neighbors to the south. Watch their publications for details.

Orbiting – Or the Next Thing to It

Have you been thinking about the possibility of visiting the Manned Spacecraft Center during your convention trip? We hope so because that is just what we have planned for you. As one of the interesting sidelights, you may go by air conditioned bus to NASA, some 20 miles from the Shamrock Hilton. Here you will enjoy lifelike exhibits, see a film story of our country's space achievements and get an overall view of this brand new city built to accommodate scientific research and astronaut training. You might even see a real live astronaut in his native habitat! Come early for this special treat. It is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, August 25. Details later about reservations and time schedules.

Correspondence Memo

Your general chairman will be out of pocket during the last half of February. This is to be a last fling before settling down for the long haul. He will be in Los Angeles attending the NASC convention and visiting grandchildren. He will also be advertising the convention in Houston. If your mail doesn't receive the usual prompt attention, never fear – he'll be back during the first week in March. He didn't mention it, but I'm going too.

Address exhibit inquiries to F. A. Romberg, 6636 Belmont, Houston, Texas 77027. Send all other mail to A. I. Martin, General Chairman, 6207 Chevy Chase, Houston, Texas 77027. – DORIS MARTIN, Publicity Chm.

BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS MEDAL

The official medal of the Battle of New Orleans Sesquicentennial Celebration Commission, Room 1750, National Bank of Commerce Bldg., New Orleans, La., is available in silver at $15 each plus 10 percent excise tax, and bronze at $4.50 each. Mail orders should include a $1.00 service charge. The medal was designed by Angela Gregory and struck by Medallic Arts Co. of New York City. Diameter is 2½ inches.

DECIMAL CURRENCY FOR EAST AFRICA

A commission has been set up by the East African common services organization to inquire into a uniform metric system of weights and measures and a decimal coinage in place of the variety of systems that now exist in East Africa.

The change-over would involve substantial costs, though not so much as might be thought at first, because a portion of the coinage has already been converted. The lower denomination of the coinage is based on the decimal system, 10 ten cent pieces to 1 shilling, although the upper denomination retains the British system, 20 shillings to £1.

Society of Medalists: 70th Issue

The 70th issue of the Society of Medalists was designed by Frank Eliscu and struck by the Medallic Art Co. According to the artist "In this medal 'Sea Treasures' the undulation of the sea plant is a study of graceful movement in the quiet world under the water, and the diver swimming effortless gives full play to the rhythmic design the human figure can achieve when freed from the restriction of earth-bound action." This series of medals is available by subscription only from the Society of Medalists, Architectural League, 115 E. 40th St., New York, N. Y.

American Hall of Fame Medal

The 22nd medal in the Hall of Fame for Great Americans at New York University honors Alice Freeman Palmer, former president of Wellesley College and a pioneer in advancing education for women. Sculptured by Thomas G. Lo Medico, the reverse depicts woman's contribution to progress and the betterment of mankind. Medals are 1¾" in size and are available in bronze at $3.00 each and in silver at $14.00 each from The Coin & Currency Institute, 393 Seventh Ave., New York, N. Y. 10001.

AUDIO-VISUAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE

A new film, "Money Minters," has been added to the A.N.A. loan collection and is now available for affiliated club programs. This film was loaned to the A.N.A. by the International Nickel Company and was obtained through the generosity of Kenn Henderson.

"Money Minters" is a 16 mm. film in sound and color and runs approximately 20 minutes. It illustrates minting and mining operations and is of particular interest to numismatists.

The committee also wishes to announce the addition of a tape recorded commentary to slide Set 21, "Regular Issue Odd Shaped Coins of the 20th Century." The tape was produced by committee member John W. Dunn who is also the author of slide Set 21. It is the objective of the committee eventually to tape the lecture notes accompanying each of our slide sets. Tapes are now also available for Set 10, "Confederate Currency," and Set 23, "Coins and Early Christianity." For a complete listing of audio-visual loan material available to affiliated clubs, write to Michael M. Dolnick, Chairman, Audio-Visual Education Committee, 6720 N. Seeley Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60645.

Forty-five members and guests attended the 99th meeting of Essex County (N. J.) Coin Club on November 10 at the Crestmont Savings in Maplewood. After routine business reports, there was discussion of coming hobby shows, local club news and recent newspaper items. It was decided to ask speakers to our future meetings. — JAMES A. BROWN, Sec.-Treas.

Michael Schopp, paper money expert of the Rochester (N.Y.) Numismatic Association, spoke at the 1123rd meeting of the club on November 10. All present enjoyed his talk on fractional currency and shinplasters. There was a discussion of the recent open house held by one of the local banking houses for the special benefit of coin collectors. The bank opened its normally closed doors on a Saturday and permitted collectors to look through rolls of coins, stipulating only that full rolls be turned back. Among rolls which had been "salted" away, we found many early dated coins, including several of 1869, the year the bank was founded. This courtesy was greatly appreciated by all who took part.

The November 24 meeting featured a talk by Edwin Quagliana on Roman and other ancient coins. The chronological order of various types and their history was explained. About 70 members and guests enjoyed the talk and viewing the representative coins. Other exhibits included a set of 1964 Olympic medals and several pieces of unusual currency. — PAUL A. KRAEMER, Corr. Sec.

The following officers of Greenville (S.C.) Coin Club, A.N.A. 25170, were elected at the October meeting: President John N. McCarley, Vice President George Shalulely, and Secretary-treasurer Thomas O. Lunsford. James T. Pheagin was guest speaker at a recent meeting and pleased the group with his interesting and educational talk on odd and curious money of the world. He illustrated the talk with an extensive collection. We welcome visitors to our meetings the second and fourth Tuesdays monthly at the Jack Tar Poinsett Hotel. Information about the club and its meetings may be obtained from the Secretary at 801 Perry Road, Greenville, S. C. – THOMAS O. LUNSFORD, Sec.

Eighty-five members and guests attended the November 24 meeting of the Odessa Coin Club, A.N.A. 35638, in the First National Bank Bldg., Odessa, Texas. Mrs. Wright, treasurer, reported that 1,202 visitors signed the register at our November 15 show, representing five states and three foreign countries. Committee chairmen made reports and it is the consensus that the show was an outstanding success in all ways. The 1965 show has been scheduled for November 12-14 in the Lincoln Hotel. W. A. Lewis gave a talk on the Denver mint, to which he delivered gold ore many years ago. – LOUIS R. GOODWIN, Pres.

The Key City Coin Club met November 5 at the Sands Hotel in Abilene, Texas, with 55 in attendance. Four new members were accepted into the club. – BETH GEIGER, Sec.-Treas.

Due to a conflict with the Central States convention in Chicago, the third annual Tri-County show, sponsored by the Kokomo Coin Club, A.N.A. 29550, has been re-scheduled for May 1-2. This event will be held in the Kokomo, Indiana, YMCA, where space is available for 22 bourse tables and 200 feet of exhibits. Further information may be obtained from Charles F. Hathaway, 1043 South Buckeye, Kokomo, Ind. 46902. – DONALD E. COLEMAN, SR., Sec.

The Convention of International Numismatics already is well advanced in programming its second annual event at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on June 18-20. COIN is an annual convention sponsored jointly by the following six California clubs: The Azteca Numismatic Society, California Exonumist Society, California Foreign Coin Club, International Numismatic Society of San Diego, Society for International Numismatics, and Southern California Ancient Numismatic Society. As at the 1964 convention, no U. S. coins will be exhibited or sold in the bourse or auction. One of three large halls will be used for the sixty table bourse, the second for exhibits, and the third for educational features and a large auction. Most of the world's leading foreign coin dealers are expected to be present, and the auction material is expected to reach a quarter-million dollars in value. Among items already consigned is a papal non-coin rarity which the owner expects to go above $1,000. The owner says he will donate 10% of the purchase price to the A.N.A. building fund, and auctioneer Don Seibert will forego his commission to swell the contribution. Other choice foreign numismatic items, particularly gold coins, are wanted. Collectors and dealers in any part of the world may contact Don Seibert, P.O. Box 11221, Houston, Texas 77016, giving descriptions of items offered for the sale. Those accepted are to be shipped, insured, to a bank in Houston for storage until convention time. Harvey L. Rose of La Mesa, Calif., is the general chairman. Watch for further details of this truly numismatic event.

A new organization, known as Tri-County Coin-A-Rama, has been formed to hold monthly shows in the Albany-Schenectady-Troy, N. Y., area. Shows are to be rotated among the three cities, the first having been held in Schenectady on December 13. Larry Peruzzi has been elected president and Joseph Greenstein, A.N.A. 24374, is vice president. Correspondence may be addressed to Tri-County Coin-A-Rama, 968 Albany St., Schenectady, N. Y. – LEONARD WISNYI, Publ. Chm.

The Pawcatuck Valley Coin Club, A.N.A. 46388, will hold its third annual show at St. Mary's Parish Hall in Stonington, Conn. on March 7 from noon until 7 p.m. Joseph D. Bailey, 277 Stonington Rd., Pawcatuck, Conn. 02891 is the chairman. – M. E. VARGAS, Corr. Sec.

Fifty-seven members and guests of Santa Barbara Coin Club gathered in the Culinary Alliance building for the November 16 meeting. Don Jurgensen, one of three board members appointed to select a new president after the recent resignation of John M. Sullivan, Jr., presided. Those present were fortunate to hear one of the most delightful and entertaining speakers to visit us when Sol Alexander of Long Beach spoke on the mint at Guadalupe y Calvo in Mexico. Alexander began by mentioning briefly the mint system of Mexico from 1824 until about 1905. In addition to the mint in Mexico City, there were 13 branch mints operating under the mint laws. He explained that in 1835

there was a group of Mexican prospectors working around a little area in the remote region of Chihuahua State. The only way to reach the location was by mule train. Suddenly they discovered the first veins of silver and gold and, within about two months, a community of 3,000 persons arose from the original dozen or so prospectors. Within four months the area had grown to 45,000 people and some of the leading citizens begged the governor of the state, Jose Joaquin Calvo, to establish law and order and a government there. In selecting a name, they did him honor by choosing his name and that of the patron saint of Mexico – "Guadalupe y Calvo." The town is high up in the Sierras, in an extremely isolated area at 7,526 feet elevation. The Comanche and Apache Indians roamed the area, and mule trains taking silver and gold to the already established mint at Chihuahua frequently were raided by either Indians or Mexican bandits. These attacks often occurred 8 or 10 miles out of town, with the loss of mules and ore and the killing of the mule-skinners. Alexander told the story of such a train that was attacked by a group of "bandidos" in 1839. They murdered everyone in the train, took the silver and gold and the mules. Somehow or other one of their members was able to obtain some of the dies and they actually minted some coins. This remains a mystery to today. But one of the men was spending his money like a drunken sailor in the state of Jalisco and, being of a peasant class, he became very noticeable and was arrested. After severe interrogation, he admitted being one of the party that had robbed the train. He implicated others who were captured and eventually shot. Since the citizens realized they couldn't continue to lose these vast quantities of ore, they pleaded with the president and eventually the Congress allowed the mint to be established there. A permit was given to MacIntosh & Co., an English firm, to build the mint on their own account and to start minting coins of the same design and denomination as were minted in the Mexico City and other mints – ¼, ½, 1, 2, 4 and 8 reales in silver and, in gold, ½, 1, 2, 4 and 8 escudos. About 1843 they began minting coins. In 1847 they replaced the mule power with steam and were able to mint greater quantities of coins. Their next move was to consign their title and interest to a firm known as Jecker, Torre and Co., which already had a lease on a mint in Culiacan. They then began, by various devious means, to discourage miners from bringing their gold and silver to them, mainly by just plain not paying them for 30 or 90 days or even longer periods. The miners began taking ore to the firm's other operation where they were paid promptly. In 1851-52, Jecker, Torre and Co. began complaining that they didn't get enough ore to operate the mint at Guadalupe y Calvo economically. By bribery and intrigue they were able to have the central government cancel the lease for their operation. Then they filed suit against the federal government of Mexico for damages of around $400,000 and were successful in winning the suit and eventually were paid off by Santa Ana. Although the fellows responsible for the bribery and waste were known to many, no one was ever actually punished for the crime, and between 14 and 15 million dollars worth of gold and silver was taken out of the area. The mint was in operation only between 1842 and 1852 and today only one or two miners are left, the mint building being in use as a county prison. Alexander explained that all of the dies appeared to have been made in Mexico City with the exception of one for ¼ reale silver coins of 1843, 1844 and 1845. They were prepared by Luciano Rovira, a designer in the Mexico City mint, and were completely unauthorized. Coins found with "LR" on them are quite unusual. Sol showed some beautiful color slides of the fascinating trip he and Mrs. Alexander took to the little town of Guadalupe y Calvo. He also showed pictures of the widow of Pancho Villa, her home, and the 1920 Dodge in which Villa was riding when assassinated in 1923.—GWEN SENTIS

The traditional first Sunday in November coin show was held in the Oak Park Arms Hotel by the Oak Park Coin Club, A.N.A. 20098. This eighth annual show drew over 1,000 visitors and was considered a complete success by Co-chairmen Bruno Rzepka and Jerry Hess. Among the unusually excellent exhibits, those by the following members won the nod from the judges after considerable deliberation: Dr. George Podlusky, best in show with medals and decorations; Joe Sesniak, U. S. coins; John Riesen, foreign coins; James Friberg, paper money; Al Birkholz, gold; Harry Flower, medals; Joan Lapa, topical coins; Gerda Birkholz, odd and curious; Larry Brueck, miscellaneous, and Donna Hess in the junior section. The exhibits were under the direction of Jerry Kadlicek, Ken Schurak and Richard Sandowski. Irv Harris, Fred Kretschmer and Dennis Anderson handled the auction very capably, while the two Jims, Babka and Menken, supervised the 25-table bourse smoothly. Elmer Moller carried the burden of producing the high quality souvenir journal, and the illustrated educational program was produced by Gerda Birkholz and Glenn Smedley. Fred Catalano saw to the police protection, Lynn Totzke was in charge of the setting up of practically all public space in the hotel, while Zig Florczak and Ed Taylor rounded up the necessary exhibit cases. To these and numerous other members who did their jobs well go the credit for another highly creditable show.

The November 3 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society was held in the Carnegie Museum, Pittsburgh, with 15 members and 2 invited guests present. Gordon Dodrill reported that a letter is being mailed to all A.N.A. clubs requesting their support of Ray Byrne, our president, as a candidate for the A.N.A. board. A considerable amount of discussion ensued concerning the problem of coin reproductions and forgeries. Bill Woodside agreed to investigate what action the Society might take in sponsoring legislation to control this threat to the future of numismatics. John Nelson was presented with an A.N.A. Educational Award certificate for his talk "Numismatic Equestrians" at the October meeting. Speaker of the evening Bill Hunter gave a talk on "The Coins of the Republics of Austria." He traced the coinage of these republics up to the present day, illustrating it with coins from his collection. He distributed a pamphlet that he had prepared to detail Austrian coinage statistics and illustrate the various coins. The following members described their own exhibits: Gordon Dodrill, Bill Hunter, Glenn Mooney, Ed Oschman, Glenn Otterman, Jim Sloss, John Knabenschuh and Jack Nelson.

The Society held its annual dinner meeting on November 14 at Stouffers Restaurant with 25 members, 20 wives and 14 other guests present. Displays were presented for the guests by John Nelson, "Art in Numismatics"; John Knabenschuh, a set of Hungarian inflation currency and large size bank notes of the world; Jim Sloss, early double eagles; Dick Foley, three large proof Columbian Exposition medals; Ray Byrne, coins of the West Indies, and Dave Davis, Chinese cash piece decorative sword. After a superb steak dinner, Henry Christensen of Hoboken, noted authority on early Latin American coinage, gave a most interesting and detailed talk on "The Coinage of Mexico's Revolutionary Decade, 1910-1920." He traced the political situation and "power plays" of the period and showed how these affected the coinage of that decade. He spoke also on the background and results of the recent underwater explorations of wrecked Spanish ships off Cape Kennedy, Florida. Many coins recovered were previously unknown and the inclusion of 119 pieces in Christensen's auction in October caused quite a stir. President Ray Byrne presented an engraved silver platter to Christensen as a token of the Society's appreciation. Generous gifts and bids in a donation auction put the Society's treasury in a better state of health. — JOHN L. KNABENSCHUH, Sec.

The tenth anniversary of the Montreal Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 23565, was celebrated on October 7 at the Chateau De Ramezay Museum. The 92 members and guests attending the buffet, exhibition and meeting, held in the beautiful Portrait Gallery, were able to view the outstanding display of coins, medals, tokens and paper money in the Coin and Medal Room of the Chateau. Distinguished guests present included Eddy Echenberg, president of C.N.A., and Fred Bowman, curator, Miss Anna O'Dowd, assistant curator, and John King, director of the Chateau. President Echenberg announced that C.N.A. will sponsor a National Coin Week to encourage numismatics in Canada. He commented that the Montreal Numismatic Society is one of the best functioning clubs in Canada and that the Canadian Numismatic Association 1965 convention would be well handled. Louis Goldsmith, convention chairman stated that the executive would work at full speed and that 65 of the 75 bourse tables have been sold already. In welcoming all guests, Director John King of the Chateau reminded us that donations of collections to the Museum would be welcomed at all times. The unusual and wonderful evening was ended with a donation auction, with the proceeds going to the Museum. — BARRY UMAN, Editor.

A showing of the slide series "History of Coinage" was the feature of the November 27 meeting of Regina Coin Club, A.N.A. 29916. Prepared by the Vancouver Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 25262, these slides were found to be highly entertaining and instructive by the 34 in attendance. During the business part of the meeting a report was received on the merits of incorporating the Club as a society under Provincial legislation. — B. A. RENWICK, Sec.-Treas.

A capacity crowd of over 200 members and guests attended the December meeting of Nation's Capital Coin Club, A.N.A. 49508, to vote for the 1965 officers and participate in the Christmas party. Frank J. Katen was elected president, Buddy Rosenberg and Miss Mary Workun 1st and 2nd vice president, respectively, Mrs. Laurese Byrd Katen secretary and Mrs. Lucille Hirshman treasurer. Elected members of the board of directors are Paul Burdette, Mrs. Dorothy Geiger, Martin Leftwich, Mrs. Marie Palmateer, Edward Paragol and Past President E. Ward Russell. With a quarter of a century experience in numismatic activities, Katen is well qualified to head this large and active club. He was the founder of the Milford Coin Club and president of New Haven Numismatic Society, a frequent contributor to several numismatic magazines, and has held offices in several business clubs and organizations, including the presidency of the Advertising Club of Metropolitan Washington. Dr. and Mrs. V. Clain-Stefanelli of Smithsonian Institution will be honored guest speakers at the January meeting of the Club, announced President Katen. Interested residents of the Washington area are invited to attend our meetings in the Gold Room of the Knights of Columbus Bldg., 918 Tenth St., N.W., the first Monday evening monthly. — MRS. LAURESE BYRD KATEN, Sec.

The Heart of America Numismatic Association, A.N.A. 4514, held one of its most successful shows November 27-29 in the Town House Hotel in Kansas City, Kans. One dealer is said to have commented, "HANA has always had the reputation of having one of the best shows in the country." The gay spirit that began with the ribbon cutting ceremony Friday morning prevailed throughout the three days, with eight foot isles jammed most of the time. Prior to the formal opening, HANA president and show chairman John Maxim welcomed the assembled group, and Kansas City Chief of Police Ted B. Peacock spoke briefly on security precautions and announced that metered parking spaces were free to show visitors. Then HANA Treasurer Nelle Bly Godsmark presented a $2,000 check to A.N.A. President P. K. Anderson for the home and headquarters fund. A.N.A. officers on hand included also Governors Harold Berk and Ralph Cleaver, the latter being a member of the headquarters steering committee, and S. W. Freeman, advertising manager. HANA is proud of its contribution and of the fact that it is the first member club to become a Patron of A.N.A. Following a short acceptance speech by Anderson, Chief Peacock cut the ribbon in the absence of Mayor Paul F. Mitchum who was hospitalized four days earlier. As an innovation and to stimulate business in the bourse, a stub was given to each person who paid the 50-cent fee, which was good for 25-cents on the first purchase made in the bourse. Nearly 700 stubs were turned in at the end of the show and some dealers declined to redeem those they had accepted from customers. Free coffee was served each morning to dealers and workers through the courtesy of Midwest Numismatic Assn. of Grandview, Kansas City (Kans.) Coin Club and the Midland Empire Numismatic Assn. of St. Joseph. Over 200 dealers, workers and friends were served a buffet supper Saturday, and the hospitality room was well attended all three days. Exhibits were noncompetitive and included 120 cases and frames shown by 34 exhibitors. Most of them were outstanding, including Victor Seibert's collection of Russian currency, the prize winning ancient Greek and Roman coin exhibit by LaMar Davis, Jack Klausen's famous Chinese numismatics collection, and one of the two known 1868 proof pattern five-cent pieces, shown by C. J. Willey. Nearly 3,000 visitors attended during the three days. One sad note was the news Saturday that Mayor Mitchum of Kansas City, Kans. had died of a heart attack.

An especially interesting program was presented by Jay Cullens at a recent meeting of North American Aviation Stamp and Coin Club. Jay recently returned from an extended visit to the Olympic Games in Japan and many other parts of the world, and had taken over a thousand colored slides. He showed a portion of these at the meeting and accounted briefly for hours spent in each locale. He also showed us many cases of stamps and coins and other artifacts that he had collected on his journey. Officers of the Club have been elected for 1965 as follows: President John Paradowski, Vice President Jack Bryant, Secretary Virginia D'Entremont, Treasurer George Sterling, and Governors Frank Schwartz, Bob King and Ted Finn. – JOY PARRISH, Publ. Chm.

Smies and Directors Everit Higgins, Raymond King, Ferril Laman and Vic Stanford. The evening's program consisted of displays and the awarding of the "E. Phil Smith" trophy for the best display of the year. While there have been many fine ones, the one on "Weights and Measures" by Charles Cox was judged the best. Phil Smith awarded him a beautiful and appropriately engraved trophy in recognition. It was announced that A.N.A. slides on odd-shaped coins would be shown at the January 6 meeting. – JOHN J. SMIES, Sec.-Treas.

The many local and out of state visitors to the second annual show of the Las Vegas Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 30260, pronounced it a most enjoyable and successful event. Exhibit Chairman Mike Timm worked hard on the exhibits and filled about a third of the convention space in the beautiful Hotel Sahara with quality exhibits – both competitive and noncompetitive. Among the latter was the J. V. McDermott 1913 liberty head nickel and six cases of U. S. paper money, dating from 1865 to the present in denominations from 5 cents to $10,000, shown by Earle T. Myers. In the competitive groups, Sid Marks of Sherman Oaks, Calif. won first in U. S. coins with a type set of son, Ernest Meyers and Cecil Kariker (the judges noted that there was a very small point spread between the winners in this group); U. S. gold – Kermit Wagner, 1st, and Jerry Goldstein, 2nd. Jim Kelly of World Numismatiques conducted the two session auction which included, among the 1139 lots, many rarities such as a proof 1856 flying eagle cent, 1877 Indian head cent and 1798 over 97 eagle. Bourse Chairman Paul Richards said that the 80 bourse dealers did a brisk business during most of the show. Mrs. Peggy Taylor was in charge of the hostess committee which served coffee each morning and staged the large cocktail party Saturday evening, during which the awards were made. A special plaque was awarded to Jim Kelly for his fine efforts with the auction. The 1965 event has been set for November 12-14 and plans are underway for another outstanding affair. – CARL G. TAYLOR, Gen. Chm.

The Calgary (Alberta) Coin Association, A.N.A. 29794, held a most interesting series of meetings last fall, starting with September 15 when President Dave McRitchie put on his "coin cap" and stumped the experts with a variety of quiz questions. The October 20 meeting was highlighted by a showing of A.N.A. slides on Ancient Greek coin types, supplied by the Edward T. Newell Visual Education Committee. The commentary was by Bill Wolley-dod. The many beautiful examples of early coin art opened the eyes of everyone to the pleasures of collecting this fascinating series of coins. At the invitation of Capt. J. Schmidt, Adjutant of the Queen's Own Rifles Of Canada, we held our November 17 meeting in the Sgt. Cusons Museum at Currie Barracks. With a fine sense of history, Capt. Schmidt reviewed the story of the Army in Canada and, in particular, that of the Queen's Own which celebrated its 100th anniversary in 1960. Later we toured the museum where the many medals, badges and other interesting and valuable reminders of the Riel Rebellion, South Africa and World Wars held the attention of the large group. – D. M. STEWART, Reporter.

Highlights of the first Boeing Coin Club show, held on October 10, were the many fine exhibits and release of the club medallion issued to commemorate the fifth anniversary of the Club, A.N.A. 35646. The Club was organized in October 1959 through the efforts of a group of employees of the Boeing Company of Wichita, Kansas, and the company recreation department. Fifteen members and three invited guests attended the December 1 meeting of Western Pennsylvania Numismatic Society, A.N.A. LM 39, at the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh. An A.N.A. Educational Award was presented to Bill Hunter for his program on the "Coins of the Republics of Austria" at the November meeting. Secretary Knabenschuh reported that one of these awards had been sent to Henry Christensen for his fine talk on "Mexico's Revolutionary Decade" at our November annual dinner. It was pointed out by Knabenschuh that no substantial additions had been made to the Society's excellent library in recent years, and the membership was asked to bring in any duplicate books they might wish to donate. We will consider at a future meeting the purchase of recent standard reference works. Bill Woodside presented a complete set of The Numismatist for 1947 to the Society and also turned over twenty sets of Australian coins which had been sent to us by Corresponding Member R. M. Greig of Tranmere, South Australia. Upon completion of the business meeting, President Ray Byrne presented a paper entitled "The Coins of Haiti and St. Dominique." Byrne became interested in this series as an adjunct to his work on the numismatic history of the West Indies, and pointed out that, prior to this monograph, there existed little numismatic information in English on Haiti and St. Dominique. The history of these first settled possessions in the Caribbean and the actual coins used by the early Haitians were defined and listed by Byrne. His talk was illustrated with four trays of the coins which he described. Upon completion of the program, members described their individual exhibits as follows: Bob Hudson – 1850 Russian proof set, 1964 Sierra Leone proof set, and 1932-33 Chinese dollars with and without the birds over the junk and a copper pattern of the 1932 dollar; Gordon Dodrill – 1964 Austrian Grillprazer proofs with the normal and error reverse; Joseph Tosch – high denomination Federal Reserve note; Jack Burns – foreign coins and bank notes purchased at the N. Y. World's Fair from vending machines; Bill Hunter – 1964 proof set of Malta; Glenn Otterman – 1779 British guinea; Bob Porter – stainless steel coins of six countries; Dick Foley – Governor General's silver medal of Canada, encased 1930 set of medals of Iceland in proof, 1955 proof set of Thessaly, Sierra Leone proof pattern set of 1791 in copper, gilt and silver proof medals of the 1848-98 Trans-Mississippi Exposition and an 1838 French Colonies pattern; John Knabenschuh – a tray of medals depicting ships, commemorating Admiral Dewey and his flagship Olympia, and a Panama Exposition medal commemorating the opening of the canal; Ray Byrne – gold cut, plugged and counterstamped coins of the Caribbean area; and Jim Sloss – two varieties of the 1807 U. S. turban head half eagle. – JOHN L. KNABENSCHUH, Sec.

Officers elected for 1965 are: Dr. Thomas Gardner, president; Jack Tarman, L. W. Larson and Henry Martin, 1st, 2nd and 3rd vice presidents; Barbara Rader, secretary, and Harry Baldry, treasurer. An A.N.A. Educational Award certificate was presented to Tom Mason of Cheyenne for his outstanding program and display on silver dollars at our October meeting. The Mobile Numismatic Society members enjoyed a most interesting educational program entitled "American Coins from 1615 to 1964" by member Art Lovi at the October 5 meeting. He displayed beautiful coins to illustrate his talk and we believe that other clubs could benefit by calling upon him for the same program at one of their meetings. – E. H. BIXLER, Pres.

The Missouri Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 7183, held its traditionally festive Christmas party on December 14 at Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson. It was rendered more enjoyble than usual even by President Albert Wick's timely comments. No formal business was conducted and no applicants were admitted to membership. Wick related the history of both the United States and the foreign Christmas Seals, along with a descriptive and imaginative history of Santa Claus post cards. His large display of Christmas Seals and Santa Claus post cards, artistically and attractively arranged, was viewed with pleasure by the 110 members and guests present. They realized and appreciated the tremendous amount of research and effort represented by Wick's comments and displays. He noted that there are many collectors of both Christmas items and that some of the earlier seals are not inexpensive. The first seals were sold in Denmark in 1904 and in this country they date back to 1907. On behalf of the Society, Program Chairman Mel Hock presented a plastic-covered memo pad with pencil to each member present, and supervised a member exchange gift party. Social Chairman Sylvia Faintich delighted everyone with colorful and appropriately decorated sheet cakes, a variety of old-fashioned Christmas candies, and coffee – all served with Christmas music. All in all, it was a most enjoyable evening. – BERNICE STEVENSON, Publ. Chm.

Speaking at the December 14 meeting of the Huntington (W. Va.) Coin Club, A.N.A. 18853, Secretary Jones brought out some of the factors which contributed to the current coin shortage and where it is leading to. He absolved the true "coin collector" from blame for the shortage, saying that the estimated 8 million collectors include many children and others who are interested in only certain series of coins and then in only one of each date and mint mark. He deplored the spectacular publicity which the hobby is getting in the general press, feeling that it gives the public a completely erroneous idea of it. Admitting that coins have been a good investment, he feels that speculators and investors should be distinguished from true coin collectors. The government itself is to blame for the shortage to some extent, he said, citing its failure to withdraw the war-time silver nickels quietly and thus recover the silver for its own use. Jones noted the increasing use of silver in industrial applications and stated that a change in our silver coins would have to be made soon. He urged collectors to study the coins they collect, take part in club affairs and find that collecting means a lot more than trying to "make a fast buck." The following officers for 1965 were elected: President Harold H. Honaker, Vice President Angelo Orsillo, Treasurer Dick Hanewald, and Secretary Curtis C. Jones, the latter being re-elected to his office. Plans were discussed for the sixth annual Huntington show to be held in May. Fred Huddleston, A.N.A. 15936, spoke to the members on the building fund for the Association and moved that the Club donate $100 to this project. The motion was approved. We were happy to have retiring President Max Brammer present as he is slowly recovering from severe head and neck injuries received in an automobile accident last month on the West Virginia turnpike. Our meetings are held the second Monday evening monthly at the YMCA building. – CURTIS C. JONES, Sec.

The Western Maryland Coin Club, Cumberland, now being sponsored by the Recreation Dept. of the City of Cumberland, held its December 15 meeting in the City Hall Auditorium. Of the 110 members on our roster, 28 were present. Theodore P. Foote was elected president in the annual election, and Eugene J. Hopkins was chosen vice president. Other officers were reelected. The new officers instituted a program whereby at each meeting various members will give short talks backed up by displays. Prizes will be awarded to the monthly winners, with a grand prize going to the top winner at the end of the series. It is planned to project on a large screen the unusual features of particular coins and give details of grading coins by present methods. We have a very enthusiastic membership which looks forward to a good year. – MARTIN L. JOHNSON

For the club year beginning last October 1, Bliss Ingalsbe was reelected president of the Rainier Coin Club, A.N.A. 35992. Other Officers, which together with immediate Past President Howard Hamilton, comprise the board of governors, are Jon Lang, vice president, Irene Thornton, secretary-treasurer, and Ted Barnsley, member at large. The Club, which was organized in 1959 and incorporated in March 1964, meets the 2nd Thursday and 4th Wednesday monthly in the Holtzinger Bldg. in Yakima, Wash. At the end of 1964, we have 69 members but expect to increase this number to at least 100. Our December 3 meeting was exceedingly interesting with special guests Robert and Mrs. Burggraff and John Buckham of Walla Walla present. This Club will be host to the 22nd annual Pacific Northwest Numismatic Association convention in the Chinook Motel and Tower on May 6-9. Bliss Ingalsbe, who is serving his third term as president, will also be general chairman of the PNNA convention. Meetings of the committees were started in September and by now plans are materializing for an excellent convention. The Chinook Motel is a comparatively new building, 13 stories, with motel, swimming pool and hotel accomodations. There is plenty of both outdoor and indoor parking space right at the side entrance, and three other hotels and motels within two blocks. Yakima is the place to have "fun in the sun." Sometimes the best places are at a premium, so we advise making room reservations early. While the convention will open on Thursday, committees will be on hand to welcome early-comers Wednesday afternoon, and guards will be on duty from then to the end on Sunday. Anyone wanting information on bourse space should write to Howard Hamilton, 4627 Kenward Way, Yakima, Wash. Many other things are planned, about which we will tell you later. – IRENE THORNTON, Sec.

The fourth annual Kentucky State Numismatic Association convention will be held in Louisville in the early spring. Further details will be announced soon. – BERNARD H. ALLGEIER, Vice Pres.

The Columbus Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 4052, held its annual Christmas banquet and gala party at Ricardo's Restaurant in Columbus, Ohio. George Andrews installed the club's newly elected officers as follows. Honorary President John Foster, Acting President Jerry Shroyer, Vice President Charles Case, Treasurer Don Bragg, Secretary Mea Cooperider, Librarian and Curator Roy E. Smith, and Historian George Andrews. Wozencraft was reelected A.N.A. and TNA representative, and gave a short talk on the benefits derived from being a member of both organizations. Plans are being formulated to order films and slides from the A.N.A. for future meetings. Dois McKee, president elect, made a short talk urging more personal participation in club activities by more members. All agreed that our club should make a supreme effort to win first place during National Coin Week. Plans to launch a membership drive about the first of February, that will run through N.C.W., are being worked out. – REFA BARLOW, Sec.

Bourse Chairman John Metzger reports that the thirty bourse tables for the Crescent City Coin Club coinival of 1965 have been assigned and dealers notified. In addition to some outstanding noncompetitive exhibits, there will be exhibits eligible for the series of annual awards given at each coinival. A donation auction was supported generously with the result that we purchased nine new exhibit cases, four tables for the bourse, awards for junior display night, and other things for the good of our meetings. Also, the Club donated $100 to the A.N.A. home and headquarters fund. Prospects are bright for another good year in 1965.

The Sand Springs Coin Club, A.N.A. 51491, has had a very active year, with attendance averaging 75 at the semi-monthly meetings. Several firsts have been accomplished very successfully by the Club, according to President Bob Edwards. We adopted ten needy families and provided bountiful baskets of food to each of them for Thanksgiving, and took toys, candy, nuts and fruit to those with children at Christmas time. On December 22, our members were guests of the Club for dinner and an evening of fun, in lieu of the regular meeting. With the holiday season past, final arrangements are being made for our 4th annual show on March 20-21 at the Garfield Cafetorium in Sand Springs. No more guesswork in grading U. S. coins!

Now every collector can grade U. S. coins easily and accurately . . . with this improved version of the well-known standard reference book by Brown and Dunn. Line drawings of each coin type have been added. They show the various grades of each coin from GOOD to ABOUT UNCIRCULATED. Important details are accurately located and can be easily separated because the drawings are larger than actual size. The new version has 206 sewed pages and a soil-resistant hard cover.

AVOID CONFUSION!

DONLON'S ZIP CODE NUMBERING SYSTEM FOR SMALL SIZE U. S. CURRENCY

avoids the confusion of arbitrarily assigned, hard-to-remember, duplicated four digit numbers. Leading cataloguers are adopting this widely acclaimed system. Hundreds of unsolicited letters now on file attest to its popularity.

ARGENTEUS

The new silverpiece called "Argenteus" pleads for the unity of the Free World under the leadership of the United States of America. Every collector of modern silver coins should acquire these most interesting pieces. The issue is limited.

The Argenteus is coined of pure silver in Munich, a capital of art in Europe. The reverse is always the same and bears a six-pointed Cross of lilies as a sign of world-unity. The inscription is in Latin and means: For the Prosperity of the World.

Shown in original size! Brilliant proof! Silver content 999/1000, as pure as possible!

The small Argenteus (Single) 15 gr.	4.00
The big Argenteus (Triple) 45 gr.	8.00
5 different small pieces, together	18.00
5 different big pieces, together	35.00
All 10 pieces on this page, together	50.00

SELECTED AS DISTRIBUTORS OF THE OFFICIAL JOHNSON INAUGURAL MEDAL

This exciting medal, designed by Felix de Weldon, will be struck in both Silver and Bronze by the Medallic Art Company of New York.

For the first time ever, the limited issue Silver medals will be struck from a separate exclusive die. Previously, both Silver and Bronze Inaugural medals have been struck from the same die. Some attempts to counterfeit Silver medals by plating the Bronze medals have been made in the past. The Silver medals measure 2½" in diameter, are serially numbered and limited to 10,000 pieces and are offered at $35.00 (plus 10% federal excise tax) each. The Bronze medals measure 2¾" in diameter, are a limited unnumbered issue and are offered at $5.00 each.

IMPORTANT — four years ago, the John F. Kennedy Inaugural medals were completely sold out before the day of Inauguration on January 20, 1961. Please rush your order to avoid possible disappointment.

A WORD— ABOUT OUR AUCTIONS

We conduct two sales a year, Spring and Fall. We try to keep our sales around 1,700 lots, feeling that more than this tends to swamp the market.

Our sales are held in conjunction with large regional Conventions insuring good floor attendance.

Several thousand catalogues are sent out to a highly selective mailing list of dealers and collectors. This insures us a large mail bid return from which we start bidding at the floor part of the Auction.

Mrs. French and I personally catalogue and accurately grade your consignment. Our Commissions range between 10% and 20% depending upon the type of material.

Your coins will bring their true value, many records have been made for rarities. All coins are adequately insured while in our possession.

Our 32 years in the business insures you of fair and honest dealings. And last but not least — we GUARANTEE settlement, 30 days after the termination of the sale.

IF IN DOUBT, ASK A COLLECTOR WHO HAS DEALT WITH US!

COURT COIN COMPANY

(Harold Whiteneck, Owner) L.M. 329

315 Washington Street Boston, Mass. 02108

From the days of the earliest explorers...

Tokens, coins and paper money have played their part in Canada's rich history. Wampum, trade silver, fur trade tokens, French colonial silver, countermarked talers, dollars and crowns... all are part of the fascinating Canadian past.

Few hobbies offer the satisfaction of Canadian numismatics and none can open so many doors to our historical heritage. A study of Canadian numismatics will lead you to a deeper understanding of the foundations of our nation, and, incidentally, disprove the widely held opinion that Canadian history is dull.

We at Van Horne consider it a privilege to assist those who are interested in the various Canadian series, be they neophytes, long-time collectors or professional numismatists. We have a large stock of tokens, coins, bills and reference books and an experienced and knowledgeable staff who have devoted many years to the study of Canadian numismatics.

Your enquiries are welcomed.

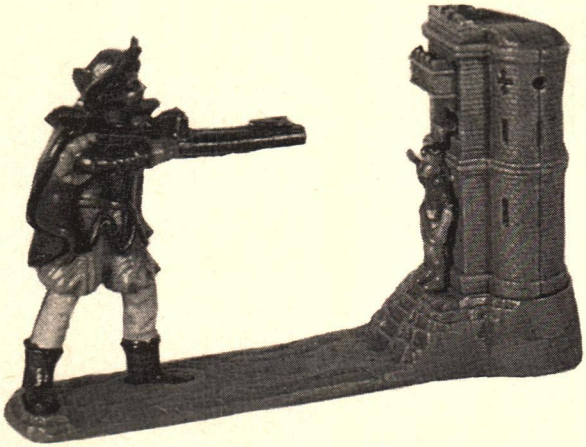
Antique American Mechanical Coin Banks

These are exact replicas of the originals at a fraction of the price!



Dealers:

These charming banks are all mechanical — gayly hand painted — with moving parts. The bank pictured below is the well known WILLIAM TELL. He loads his gun with a coin, shoots the apple from his son's head and rings a bell inside the castle. All action is started by pressing his right foot.

Coins and Collectors

by Q. David Bowers

COINS AND COLLECTORS, a lavishly illustrated cloth hardbound book of over two hundred pages covers the entire field of coin collecting. Spiced with interesting stories and anecdotes this book traces the development of coin collecting in America from the early 1800's to the present day.

The coin business in the 1880's . . . the American Numismatic Association . . . the commemorative craze of the 1930's . . . the modern coin market . . . Proof coins . . . interesting die varieties . . . mint errors . . . the introduction of the Lincoln cent in 1909 and the controversy concerning it . . . the introduction of the Peace dollar . . . the field of world coins . . . collectors and dealers who made numismatic history . . . coin investment with success stories . . . buying and selling . . . coin conventions . . . You'll find these and hundreds of other topics discussed and brought to life with fascinating detail.

Illustrating the book are hundreds of different coins, old-time dealers' ads, news articles and other items of interest. There are hundreds of numismatic stories and anecdotes . . . many unpublished, others long-forgotten, all interesting.

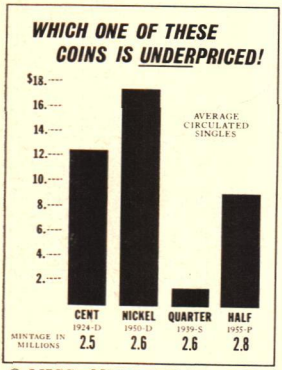
THE FABULOUS & FANTASTIC
1937-S & 1939-S Washington Quarter!

HERE'S WHY THE LOW MINTAGE CIRCULATED WASHINGTON QUARTERS ARE AN EXCELLENT INVESTMENT!



© MISS. NUM. EXCH. INC.

REASON NO. 1 — Circulated coins are a real blue chip investment. There are an estimated ten million coin collectors in the United States. Ninety-seven per cent collect CIRCULATED coins. Circulated coins are the coins tnat collectors find in circulation and the vast majority of collectors are more than happy to collect coins of the average circulated grade. The cost of circulated coins is more within the means of the vast majority of coin collectors; which is a factor that deserves careful consideration. Scarce and semi-scarce circulated coins have to be good because there is now, and will be in the future, an even greater real demand for these items from the grass root collectors.

REASON NO. 2 — There is tremendous room for price advances on low mintage circulated quarters. Take a careful look at the above Graphs which show a clear comparison that indicates how grossly underpriced the circulated Washington quarter actually is. Just look, even if the circulated quarter were to double or even triple in price it would still be underpriced.

REASON NO. 3 — There has been a tremendous increase in the poularity of the Washington quarter set within the last six months. Take a look at the "Trading Post" section of "COIN WORLD" and see the large number of Ads dealing with quarters; compare this with an older issue and see the great increase in Ads. The Washington quarter is at last coming into its own. Don't forget, the Washington quarter is the longest running current U. S. series of coins.

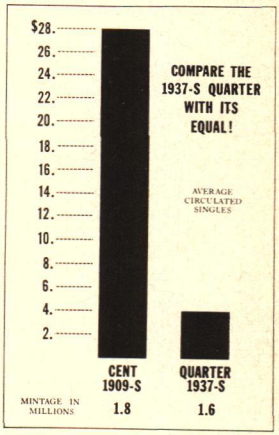
REASON NO. 4 — SAFETY!! Our current price on a roll of 1939-S quarters is $47.50. That is forty coins at $1.20 each and it is also $10.00 face value. Compare that with $425.00 for a roll of fifty pennies which is fifty cents face.



© MISS. NUM. EXCH. INC.

Also look at the 1946-S and 1947-S quarters selling at around $20.00 a roll. These are two good scarce coins selling at only double face.

CONFEDERATE TREASURY NOTE COLLECTION

An outstanding assemblage of sixty-nine notes representative of every type issued: all four Montgomerys in superb condition, the $5 "Indian princess," and the $10 Liberty, shield and eagle notes — unusually fine, and most of the other notes extra fine to uncirculated. The notes are in transparent envelopes in a 14-ring binder album. A rare, perhaps unique, opportunity to secure such a complete, museum-quality collection. Detailed information furnished in response to serious inquiries.

Have you a copy of my book, Confederate Treasury Notes? Copies are available for $5.00 postpaid, including my handy Cross Index and Summary. The 148 pages are packed with information on these notes, following a flexible common-sense system of listing by types, major varieties and minor varieties. It is the only fully illustrated book with extensive, detailed information on varieties, watermarks, plate letter-numbers, variants, counterfeits, bogus notes and control stamps.

BRILLIANTIZE

MAKES COPPER, SILVER, OTHER COINS BRILLIANT INSTANTLY . . . Safe for proof coins

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"I recently purchased 75 nickels that were found by a skin-diver friend of mine in Lake Erie: these coins were very dirty and coated with about 10 years of lime, etc. I cleaned most of them with BRILLIANTIZE and they are now in what I call Uncirculated condition, thanks to such a wonderful cleaner." — Buffalo, New York.

"I just cleaned a proof cent that I got at a real bargain and I made a perfect beauty of it." — Brooklyn, New York.

"BRILLIANTIZE is exactly what you said it was. It's wonderful!" — Ohio.

"I have used it before and find it to be the best there is." — Omaha, Nebr.

"I was agreeably surprised with the excellent results I have had with some badly corroded Indian and Lincoln cents. BRILLIANTIZE is all you advertise that it is." — California.

COPPER COMMERCIAL COINS

by R. C. Bell

This new book, a sequel to the author's first work, "Commercial Coins 1787-1804," describes the second series of traders' tokens issued in copper in the reign of George III.

Only pieces used as currency are described; the numerous forgeries and counterfeits have been excluded. In conjunction with the previous volume, the coins reveal the impact of the Industrial Revolution on the peoples of the British Isles. Over 400 illustrations.
